THAT DISH OF CROW.

How Heavily It Sits on Republican Souls.

THE GREATEST STRADDLE YET.

Candidate Pro-Chinese, Platform Anti-Chinese—Candidate Anti-Labor, Platform Pro-Labor, Etc.

The HERALD is in receipt of many pointers from Democrats and Republicans as to the effect of Harrison's nomination. These come in all sorts of ways. The following surreptitiously laid on the Editor's desk will do for a starter:

A CLASSIC EPISTLE.

LOS ANGELES, June 26, '88.

EDITORS HERALD—You are so splited against the old Tippecanoe's nomination you dont know what to do. We gave him a good send off right here in Los Angeles, over 4000 men in line, and we'd have had 10000 if we'd had the torches. Yess. Harrison is very popular in Indiana and he will carry it and you know it. He will have 20000 majority in Indiana, 50000 in N. Y. and 30000 in Cal. Los Angeles county will give him 5000 majority. He is the Workingmans friend, notwithstanding your denial, and they will endorse him at the polls. You dont like him because he will lay out that damned Humbug Cleveland in the first Round and dont you forget it. WORKINGMAN.

In the language of the late lamented master of Dotheboys' Hall, "There is richness for you."

The next pointer comes from a Democrat, and was given to a reporter on the night of the great "whoop-up," when all hearts had been fully attuned for Blaine, but were forced to change the key from an anti-Chinese to a pro-Chinese programme. This Democrat said: It is all well, with one exception. Where is the proper musical instrument of the g. o. p. which, in the light of Harrison's nomination, should be de rigueur in this year of grace? I mean the Chinese gong. It ought by all means to be here.

The next is from a Republican source. It also reached the ears of the reporter on the night, when the programme outlined in Hamlet was so terribly reversed, and instead of the funeral baked meats coldly furnishing forth the wedding breakfast, the wedding feast prepared for the Magnetic Knight of the White Feather, was made to do duty as the funereal baked hog at the Joss house where the obsequies of the advocate of Chinese cheap labor was begun. The speeches had been made; the torches had all burned low; the powder was all burned. The staid decorum and pious observances so entirely becoming at a glorification where the son of one of Cromwell's Roundhead Puritans was the cynosure of all eyes was at an end. The long-haired tribe had had their day, and now the short hairs were out to have their night. One of the ringleaders of this ilk had imbibed a goodly amount of pure Bourbon fluid. Well the adage was in order—in vino veritas; or in plain English, get a man drunk—that is a Republican politician—if you want to get at the truth. The king of the short hairs being asked how he was pleased with the silk-hat icicle instead of the White Plumed magnet, said:

A SHORT-HAIR'S VIEWS.

"D— ice, and all belonging to it. I tell you we are all d— liars. It just reminds me of a story. You know how Sheboygan in Wisconsin, got its name? An old Indian had eight girls. He wanted a brave born to his house. One more addition came, and it was a girl. The old chief got mad and ripped out a string of profanity—in good English, of course—the whole ending with the lamentable cry, 'A she boy again!' We are not so honest. We have got just the last thing we wanted, and we pretend we are delighted."

ONLY COLIC.

One of that sort in which the g. o. p. abounds, stood by. He is the sort that in daylight parades as a long-hair and is very correct, but at night puts on a short-hair's mask and is "one of the behoys." He had his mask on and "was going it." He is historical in his tastes, and said: It reminds me more of the time when Queen Mary, of England, after her marriage with King Philip, of Spain, thought she was in an interesting condition and had all the church bells rung in honor of the expected event. A short time passed and the royal lady was chagrined to find it was only an attack of colic. That is what we have. That muss at Chicago is worse than abortive in its results.

THE GREAT STRADDLER.

It will be better to take a Democratic pointer next, and it will be one of more recent date than Monday night. One of the unterrified says Harrison is a great man, a very great man. Nothing but the lines in Shakespeare referring to Cæsar will express his gigantic proportions:

He doth bestride this little world like a Colossus

Just look at how he straddles from his own millionaire standpoint to get his patent leather boot on the platform of the party. The two positions are wide asunder as the poles, and are a perfect illustration of the utter insincerity of the g. o. p. There is a labor plank in the platform which Mr. Harrison tries to maintain his equilibrium on. Now, how is he in his relations to labor? He has always opposed its interests. Was there ever an unendurable pressure put on labor by any grinding monopoly, and which caused all the unhappy victims to resist in which Mr. Harrison in his patent leather boots, his spotless shirt front, his silk hat and kid gloves, with his stomach full and his bank account plethoric with monopoly fees, did not take sides with the monopolies? When did he ever restrain his ardor from calling for brute force to suppress a strike at the bayonet point? How is he to straddle from Dan in the monopoly interest and put the other patent leather boot toe in line in the Beersheba where the humble laborer has his home.

THE CHINESE STRADDLE.

Then there is the Chinese question. It is the most utter fudge to say Harrison voted against the Page bill because the points in it were covered by previous legislation. It was not once or twice, but half a score of times that this plutocrat, this servant of plutocrats, voted against measures whose purpose was Chinese exclusion. He always voted so. Nor has he changed his mind one iota. How then is this great little man to straddle across the great gulf which lies between his own bigoted standpoint and the pretended liberality of the platform on which he affects to stand?

THE GERMAN STRADDLE.

That dragnet for votes which the Chicago Convention let down into the sea of politics, and which they falsely call a platform, for it is a mere vote-catching net, is most affectingly lacrymose over the troubles of Germany. But Mr. Harrison's antagonism to the Germans in America is only equalled by the favor he bears the Chinese. Why, the Germans have picnics on Sunday. They drink beer and sing Heine's erotic songs. They are an utter abomination in the nostrils of this lineal descendant of Cromwell's Puritans. The nearest Mr. Harrison ever comes to uttering a profane expression is when he sees a German picnic party in the streets on Sunday. Then he hurls upon their devoted kopfts all the dire thunders of his anathema maranathas—whatever they may be. He hates a German as the Devil hates Holy Water, or as Pixley, that other smoky luminary of the g. o. p., hates the Irish. Harrison hates a Teuton as he loves a Chinaman.

THE SILVER STRADDLE.

Another point in the platform which Harrison will find it difficult to reach is the unmeaning bit of twaddle on bimetallism. To be sure that plank is quite innocent. It merely affirms what no one denies—unless it be John Sherman. He did deny that silver was a proper metal for coinage purposes at one time. But John claimed he had been converted from this error by an earnest desire to be President. The Ohio iceberg having warmed up to silver, no one now turns the cold shoulder to the queen of metals. It was proper the Republican party should put itself on record, for its allegiance to this royalty in the mineral kingdom was suspected. Now, if with all his other straddles, Harrison can get his foot squarely planted on the silver knot-hole in the California plank—said hole being the superlative effort of his whole life, on the part of Mr. Osborne, of Los Angeles—then Mr. Harrison will be the greatest political straddler of this or of any other age. He was, in his devotion to coupon-clippers, bond-holders, millionaires, plutocrats and kindred interests, the worst enemy the old Greenbackers met in their combats in Indiana. He would venture a new profane expression for the benefit of a fiat money man, as he would for that of a German. The The only aim, practically speaking, of the Greenbackers was to get a sufficient supply of the circulating medium in culation to give the borrower a half even change against the lender. That is about all the silver advocate aims at to-day.

THREE R'S OR THREE M'S.

Democratic views are always the soundest. Let us stick to them. Here is a short expression of opinion on the part of one of the members of the party of Jefferson and Jackson. A Republican said his party will win next November. His reason is that Burchard's three big R's in 1884 defeated Blaine, and that the alliterative liar cannot get in his political gospel in 1888. That is all right, remarked a Democrat in the crowd. We will dispense with Burchard this year. We have a very neat little alliteration of our own. It has the benefit of being strictly true, and is a popular rather than a religious war cry. It is not three Rs; but it is three whopping big Ms. It is Money, Monopolies and Mongolians. Rum, Romanism and Rebellion are nowhere as compared with this.

THE LABOR VOTE.

Let us wind up this with a brief reference to the attitude the labor people will assume in this campaign. There is a very representative man of this class here. He has lately arrived from the East. He knows New York and Indiana particularly well. There are 180,000 members of the Trades Federations in New York City. The "obscure labor advocates of Indiana," as a city contemporary, with that true sympathy for labor which lies so near the average Republican heart, calls them, claim that there are 6,000 labor votes in that State. These, as this labor man thinks, will go solid against Mr. Harrison. He thinks there is no doubt about it. They are real working men, they are intelligent and will vote for their own interests. Doing so they will not vote for Harrison.

THE SANTA FE CLUB.

An Enthusiastic Open Air Meeting Last Night.

The Santa Fe Club, one of the liveliest and most enthusiastic Democratic clubs in the city, held a grand open air demonstration at the corner of Turner and Vignes streets last night. A number of members of the Iroquois Club visited the club, and by 9 o'clock fully 500 people gathered about a platform, erected in the middle of the street and illuminated with countless torches and transparencies. Mr. W. R. Stevenson, City Assessor, President of the Santa Fe Club, called the meeting to order, and introduced Colonel Daniel R. Lewis, formerly of New Orleans, now a practising lawyer of Los Angeles. Colonel Lewis confined his remarks to a very able and lucid argument on the tariff question.

Mr. D. Hunt, the next speaker, dwelt upon the tariff question, and arraigned the Republicans for circulating "the campaign lie that tariff reform meant loss of protection to American industries." Mr. Hunt was frequently interrupted with applause during the course of his excellent remarks.

Mr. William S. Waters read an interview with a Chinaman, of Memphis, Tenn., given publication in the Examiner of a recent date. This closed the proceedings, and the club adjourned to meet next Thursday evening.

Suicide at Fullerton.

Coroner Meredith went to Fullerton yesterday afternoon, to hold an inquest on the body of Henry Eikerson, who shot himself on Monday evening, and died from the effects of the wound on Wednesday night. It was stated here that Eikerson, who was the proprietor of a hotel at Fullerton, had been drinking heavily for about two weeks, and on Monday evening walked about a half mile away from the village and shot himself in the head. He was found shortly after and taken to the hotel, where he died Wednesday evening. He leaves a wife and four children.

A Sublet Store.

J. S. Chadwick commenced suit in the Superior Court yesterday to recover $500 damages and the possession of store No. 7 South Main street, from Denis Felix et al. Plaintiff alleges that he leased the store to defendant for $100 per month, on the understanding that there were to be no subtenants. Defendant sublet the store, and plaintiff alleges that he notified him that the lease had been forfeited, but he refused to leave. Hence the suit.

THE YOUNG IDEA.

The Closing of Some of Our City Schools.

LITERATURE BY THE MILE.

Sweet Girl Graduates and the Pantalooned Ones Feeding on the Tree of Knowledge.

The nineteenth annual commencement exercises of the St. Vincent's College were given before a very large audience in Armory Hall last night. Those present thoroughly appreciated the literary feast that was spread out before them. On the stage were seated Mayor Workman, Rev. Father Murray, Rev. Father Liebana, Mr. Kenealy, Mr. R. Dillon, D. A. McGarry, Mr. J. V. Sproul, Rev. Father Myers, Hon. S. F. Spencer, Mr. Fitzwilliam, Dr. Delano, and a number of the alumni. The proceedings opened with a musical pot-pourri by the orchestra, after which Mr. Edmund Burke delivered a telling oration on "The Student's Mission." He handled his subject well, and his words showed deep study and a keen and well-expressed perception. After an interlude of music he was followed by Mr. J. Vincent Hannon, who spoke on "The Republic and Education." His style was free and natural, and his language eloquent, and the telling points of his essay were met with murmurs of approbation that showed how thoroughly the audience enjoyed and appreciated his efforts. A few more bars of music, and then Mr. J. H. Dockweiler delivered the Alumni oration. This gentleman treated his subject, "Society," in a very masterly manner, and added to the effectiveness of his address by his marked dramatic delivery. The closing speech was made by the Hon. S. F. Spencer, who gave some admirable advice to the students regarding their paths through the mazes of life, and after the address had been concluded Mayor Workman rewarded the lucky students with medals. The gold medal of excellence for 1888 was awarded to Mr. J. Vincent Hannon, who also carried off the medal for English composition. The medal for Christian Doctrine was won by J. Lopez, and after this had been presented the awarding of diplomas and premiums commenced. About eighty students in all were rewarded for their diligence during the past year, and then amid the strains of sweet music the exercises were declared over, and the vast audience departed for their homes, thoroughly pleased with the manner in which they had passed the evening.

The fall term of studies at the college will begin on the first Monday in September.

After the school commencement had closed, a few of the young gentlemen visited the HERALD office and left the following somewhat cabalistic communication:

Last night after the commencement exercises of St. Vincent's College had drawn to a close, seven of the students repaired to a restaurant and partook of a banquet in which soup was the principal ingredient. The affair passed off very quietly and after the demands of a disappointed appetite had been satiated, the participants wended their ways homeward singing "The Heart Bowed Down."

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Commencement Exercises at the Fort Street Church.

The commencement exercises of the High School will take place this evening at the Fort street M. E. Church. The following will be the order of exercises: Overture, (Mozart) Heine Quartette; salutatory and oration, "Hand Work," William W. Weller; oration, "The Pass of the Sierra," Walter Sanders; essay, "Qualities that Win," Mary H. Gilmore; oration, "Liberty Enlightening the World," Edward S. Pauly; violin solo, (Sarasate) Miss Lizzie F. Heine; oration, "Harmonies of Nature," Winfred J. Sanborn; essay, "What Shall She Do?" Abbie V. Denny; oration, "Tito Melema," Walter R. Hanra; essay, "The Heel of Achilles," Adda F. Gish; Music—Selection, "Rigoletto," (Verdi); Oration, "Funny Literature," Barton H. Marquis; Oration, "Critics and Criticism," Leonard F. Shepard; Essay, "Shamrock and Thistle," Estelle Haines; Oration, "Our Boys," Leonard G. Hilpert; Music—Violoncello Solo, (Goltermann); Mr. Louis Heine; Essay, "Growth of Individualism," Hattie M. La Dow; Story, "Leyenda del Molino Viejo," Edward L. Mayberry; Class History, Emma L. Haines; Music—Swedish Wedding March, (Svedermann), Heine Quartette; Oration, "Iconoclasts," John N. Halter; Oration, "Our Flag," Daniel C. Mulock; Valedictory, Essay, "Poetry of Common Words," Mira Jacobus; Presentation of diplomas, Dr. J. S. Crawford, President Board of Education.

SUCCESSFULLY ORGANIZED.

The Stephen M. White Democratic Club.

Pursuant to a call by Eugene Germain, Chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, a meeting of the Democracy of the city was held at the rooms of the Central Committee for the purpose of completing the organization of the Stephen M. White Club. The following officers were elected. President, I. G. Howell; First Vice-President, Sheldon Borden; Second Vice-President, E. Blennerhassett; Third Vice-President, W. L. White; Recording Secretary, E. W. Gilbert; Financial Secretary, L. C. Davis; Treasurer, W. A. Stiles. On motion of Mr. A. C. Clarke, Hon. Stephen M. White was elected an honorary member of the Club. After the appointment of several Committees, the Club adjourned to meet at the same place on next Monday evening. The members of the newly organized club were invited into the parlors of the Iroquois Club, where the Iroquois Glee Club sang several selections. After listening to a short speech by Hon. Sheldon Borden the assemblage gave three cheers for the ticket and adjourned.

Removal.

The People's Store moved its goods last night into its new premises in the Phillips Block, on Spring street. It will have considerably more room in the new location, and will be able to make a display of which even San Francisco stores might be proud.

THE RAILROADS.

Another Line to be Built to Santa Monica.

ALL THE ARRANGEMENTS MADE.

A $20 Round-trip Rate Ticket to San Francisco for the Teachers Convention.

Los Angeles is to have another railroad to Santa Monica, and it is to be built and operated by the California Central. The new line will leave the Santa Fe's rails at a point about two miles below Inglewood and two and a half miles above Ballona, and will then run in a direct line across the head of the marsh to Santo Monica, a distance of about five miles. In this course it will traverse the La Ballona ranch and the Jones and Baker property. The former tract has been subdivided, so the right of way has not yet been canvassed for, but Messrs. Jones and Baker announce that they are ready to give all privileges to the new line across their property, and will probably also deed depot and terminal facilities in Santa Monica. The road will be an easy one to construct as there is practically no grade to be overcome until nearly at Santa Monica, where some steep, uphill work will have to be done. A large force of teams and men have been engaged, and work is to be commenced at the Santa Monica end on Monday next. This line will be a rival to the Southern Pacific for the excursion business, as it will be quite as short as the one now operated via the Palms. Santa Monica will doubtless boom under the influence of the many new lines that are stretching out to that place, this making the fourth set of rails spoken of to that place. The first is the Southern Pacific's line now in operation, then the County Railroad, which will be completed within two weeks, then the "Airline" route to be constructed by Messrs. Germain, Flash, Keach and Haley, and which is already incorporated and surveyed, and then the line outlined above. Under the influence of this gridiron of roads quick time and low rates, may be expected next season.

Pullman Passengers.

The following Pullman passengers left the city yesterday for San Francisco and the East:

By the 12:45 P. M. train: B. W. Taylor, Mr. Barton, Mrs. L. Howard, Mrs. E. H. Bentley, Mr. McFadden, Mr. Granger, K. Cohn, L. C. French, Mr. Cook, E. W. Alexander, J. N. Young, H. C. Denkins, Mrs. Griff, Mrs. P. M. Hepborne, Mr. Tassig, A. Burr, S. Fentock, Mrs. J. R. Pryor, L. J. Hartman, E. B. Eddy, Frank E. Rose, C. Spencer, M. F. Thompson.

By the 9:30 P. M. train: J. W. Haverstick, E. B. Cushing, B. Fayanville, G. Stone, Mrs. Pace, Mr. Northam, Mr. McCloskey, P. W. Dorsey, W. J. Coskey, D. McFarland, J. H. Milke, Miss Corpus, Mr. McLane, Mrs. Flowers, C. Newman, Miss May, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Ando, W. H. Hall, R. Whiteside.

Good for Pomona.

Mr. H. Steere, the cordial ticket agent of the Southern Pacific, has returned from Pomona, where he has been on business for the company. It has been decided to make Pomona a coupon ticket office at an early day, owing to the large increase of business there. At the present time residents of that place desiring to travel East have to get an order on the Los Angeles office for their ticket, or else pay local fare, but under the system which is about to be inaugurated, a traveler will be able to obtain his through coupon ticket there the same as he could in this city.

The Santa Barbara Extension.

As soon as some of the branch lines which the Southern Pacific is building throughout the State are completed a force of men is to be put to work to close the gap on the coast line between Templeton and Ellwood. A good deal of heavy work is to be done, but when it is finished it will be a well paying road, as in its course from this city it runs through one of the most fertile sections of California.

Pomona to Elsinore.

It is stated that grading has been commenced near Pomona on the Pomona and Elsinore railroad, which, as stated in these columns some time ago, is to be built and operated by the Southern Pacific. The disputed right of way into Pomona has been secured, and it is believed that the line will be in operation by the first of next year.

The Santa Fe's New Offices.

The transfer of the Santa Fe offices into their new quarters in the Phillips block will be made on Saturday night. About the fifth of July, Mr. Williamson Dunn, accompanied by his stenographer, Mr. W. Perkins, Mr. G. O. Green, telegrapher, and W. E. Damon, chief clerk, will remove to San Diego, and Mr. H. B. Wilkins and his officials will be transferred to this city.

A Good Showing.

The California Southern Railroad has filed its annual report. It shows that the total income amounted for the year to $1,524, 466 79, an average of $6,274.89 per mile of road operated. The total net income amounted to $518,644 86. Nine persons were killed on the company's tracks during the year and twenty injured.

The Teachers' Convention.

For visitors from this city to the Teachers' Convention at San Francisco, the Southern Pacific has made a rate of $20 for the round trip. Tickets will be placed on sale on July 12th and will be good, going until July 18th, and returning, until September 15th.

General Gleanings.

Large quantities of ties for the A. & P. are being received at San Diego.

Mr. T. K. Stateler, Passenger Agent of the Northern Pacific, is in the city.

An excursion of Passenger Agents will come to the coast this summer, to indulge in fishing and sight-seeing.

Mr. C. F. Smurr, Assistant General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific, went to Colton yesterday.

The Union Pacific has decided to run a through car between Los Angeles and Council Bluffs once every two weeks. It will lay over in this city one day each trip.

Efforts are being made by Eastern passenger agents to obtain a rate of one cent per mile each way between the Pacific coast and Columbus, O., for the National Grand Encampment to be held at that city.

Four carloads of "Scenic Route" excursionists left the city last night for all points East. They were booked by F. W. Thompson, the able representative in this city of the Chicago and Rock Island road.

Mrs. Katie Densey has sued the Santa Fe system for $30,000. She, while en route to Los Angeles was put off the train in Kansas, the conductor alleging that she had an imperfect ticket. She hailed from Manchester, Ind.

Jail Smugglers.

Sheriff Kays says, despite the closest watch, that oftentimes opium, knives, files, string and other things are passed into the cells of prisoners at the County cail by visitors. Yesterday a Chinaman called at his office and secured a permit to visit his "clussin," who was imprisoned at the County Jail. When the almond-eyed son reached the jail he asked Jailer Russell to hand his "clussin" a piece of sauce-covered sweet bread, a most palatable delicacy in the minds of Chinamen. Russell took the cake and was about handing it into the prisoner's cell, when something suspicious about the Chinaman who handed it to him attracted his attention. Russell, with his knife, cut open the cake, and says he was not much surprised to find imbedded in its hollow interior enough opium to have lasted his prisoner a month. The visiting Celestial was forthwith kicked out of the jail.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

Closing Exercises at Turner Hall Yesterday.

The commencement exercises of the Summer class of 1888 of the State Normal school took place yesterday afternoon at Turner Hall, which was scarcely large enough to admit the friends and relatives of those who formed the graduating class. The doors opened at half past one o'clock and from that time until two o'clock there was no cessation in the pouring in of the audience, which, at the latter hour, filled every seat and occupied all the standing room available. These were interested in the graduation of Misses Matilda F. Adams, Margaret L. Benedict, Florence M. Cromer, Bertha E. Fitzmier, Annie R. Hanlon, Fannie M. Hayes, Mary I. Hutchinson, Lillian L. Laubersheimer, Caroline A. Mueller, Julia M. Myers, Estelle Patten, Wilmattie Porter. Flora Reavis, Carrie Reeves, Harriet V. Reilly, Francis Stark, Rosella Stoermer, Ella L. Slottenberg, Anne M. Weir and Albertina Wiseman, who, when the curtain rose, were seen seated on the stage. The young ladies were attired in white, and the only young man in the class occupied a seat opposite Prof. More, who was also on the stage. Just behind the footlights was a perfect embankment of flowers arranged in various designs from the simple bouquet to the intricate figure, and at each side were large stands which added charming effect to the scene. These were all for the graduates, and after the exercises, were distributed among them. The exercises opened with music by the orchestra in attendance. Prof. More then introduced Miss Harriet V. Reilly, who read her essay on "Observation." This was a well written essay, and displayed more than ordinary thought in the author. Miss Mary I. Hutchinson's poem, "The Sunny Side," was most excellent, and met with a warm reception. Miss Flora Rawson's essay on "Symbols," was quite original, and was listened to with undivided attention by the audience. Miss Wilmattie Porter's "Class History and Prophecy" was very interesting, especially to those who had an acquaintance with the young ladies. Miss Albertina Wiseman sang "Gaily Chant the Summer Birds," in excellent voice. Miss Carrie Reeves' essay, "E'en Icebergs Need Not Chill the Soul," was warmly applauded by the audience, and Miss Julia M. Myers' essay on "The Statue of Memnon" was more than excellent.

Prof. More at this point introduced Hon. R. F. Del Valle, who delivered an eloquent address to the graduates. He praised them for their work in the past as evidenced by the essays he had heard read, and outlined the paths of life over which they must tread in the future. His advice was most practical and was listened to by the young ladies with such attention as to show that they were willing to receive and act by it. Prof. More then presented the graduates with their diplomas, giving all kindly words as they stepped forward to receive the parchment they had worked so hard to obtain. The exercises closed with the class song which was written by Miss Flora Rawson and was heartly applauded.

THE SISTERS' SCHOOL.

Programme of Exercises and List of Fancy Work Exhibits.

There are few prettier sights at any time, than that presented by a number of children assembled together to take part in any amusement or concerted exercise; but this effect is still further enhanced when, as was the case yesterday morning at the Sisters' School, on the corner of Macy and Alameda streets, the whole body is composed of little girls, ranging from 5 years of age upwards, each arrayed in spotless white garments, fitting emblems of the innocence and simplicity of childhood. No one could look upon the smiling faces of the participants as they go through their various evolutions with proud bearing and flashing eyes on this, perhaps, the most momentous day of their young lives, without being reminded of the time when he or she was wont to participate in just such closing exercises at the old schoolhouse, now, alas! far away, and almost forgotten in the midst of the worries and cares of everyday life. There is no more deserving institution in this city than the asylum of the Sisters of Charity for female children. It was founded in 1856, and it has at the present time some two hundred inmates. Besides these, there are quite two hundred day scholars at the school in connection with the asylum, and under the able management of Sister Superior Mary Josephine, its affairs are in a prosperous condition. All branches of modern education are included in the course of study, and, judging by the samples of fancy work on exhibition in the hall of the building, special attention has been paid to this branch of education. The annual closing exercises of the school were held in the pavilion in the grounds, which was most tastefully decorated for the occasion with evergreens of all descriptions, and the structure was crowded with visitors, and friends of the pupils.

The following programme was admirably rendered, and each number was vigorously applauded by the audience: Grand Marche de Concert (Blake), Misses C. Etchemendy, C. Twoomey, F. Meyer and D. Meyer; Welcome Greeting Chorus (Hadyn); West End Polka (D'Albert), Misses C. Underwood, M. J. Martin, C. Jones, L. Underwood, N. Platner and F. Deaver; Coronation Ode, Chorus (Sofforth); Medals, Badges of Excellence, Premiums; Song of Content, Junior Circle; Mozart's Celebrated Waltz (Becht), Misses M. Knightly, A. Martin, R. Sanford, B. Lord; Birdie's Ball, Primary Class; Essay, "Pleasures of Memory," Miss C. Teahen; "Silver Bells of Memory," Junior Class; Premiums; "Listen to the Woodbird's Song" (Glover), Misses L. Jeffries, M. Knightly, A. Davila, F. Meyer; Calisthenics, St. Joseph's March; Essay, "America's Benefactors," Miss May Kenealy; Grand Union Potpourri (Baumbach), Misses C. Etchemendy, C. Teahen, D. Meyer, F. Meyer; "O, Cor Amoris Victima" (Lambillotte), Senior Singing Class; Honey-Suckle March (Becht), Misses B. Baker, B. Evans, C. Twoomey, N. Platner, S. Clos, S. Nealon; Whip-poor-will Song, Chorus; Premiums; La Golandrina (Serradell), Senior Chorus; Concert Recitation, "An Order for a Picture;" Flower Girls, Song; Essay, "Why Education often proves a Failure," Miss C. Etchemendy; Months and Seasons—Cantata, "January," Miss L. Jeffries; "February," Miss M. West; "March," Miss N. Allen; "April," Miss A. Davila; "May," Miss P. Pelanconi; Spring Trio, Misses M. Dillon, M. Kenealy, A. Davila, "June," Miss D. Meyer; "July," Miss M. Davenport; "August," Miss B. Gauthier; Summer Trio, Misses C. Lord, A. Regon, M. Davenport, "September," Miss S. Clos; "October," Miss M. J. Martin; "November," Miss E. McClean; "December," Miss B. Evans; Full Chorus of all the Months; "Moonlight on the Hudson," Two Pianos, Misses C. Etchemendy, D. Meyer; Farewell Chorus (Abt); Celeste Marche (Vilbre), Misses A. Martin, K. Teahen, M. Knightly, C. Twoomey.

Upon the conclusion of this really pretty and excellently performed cantata, a general adjournment was made to the hall, where the exhibition of fancy work was held. A full list of the articles is appended: Miss Mary Sanford's exhibit—Mantel cover, curtain bows and piano cover; Miss Sarah Neaton—Baby's crochetted dress and jacket, crochetted trimming and borders; Miss Jennie Smith—Satin pincushion, embroidered, specimens of crochetted borderings; Miss Kate Teahan—Embroidery and crochet work; Miss Ada Miller—Crochetted skirt; Miss Bertha Evans—Toilet tidies; Miss Refugia Trejo—Crochet-work quilt, satin and lace embroidered pincushion and scent-bottle covers; Miss Nora Allen—Shawl and skirt, knitted; Miss Rosa Sanford—Crochetted quilt, lace shawl, two beaded opera hoods and pincushion; Miss M. Knight—Crochetted quilt, satin pincushion and scent-bottle covers, embroidered; Miss C. Etchemendy—Quilt, shawl, mantel cover, piano cover, satin and plush embroidered pillows; Miss F. Meyer—Knitted pillow case and two tidies; Miss Rosa Martinez—Piano cover and pillows embroidered. Shawl exhibit—Misses Nellie Platner, Sophie Clos, Cecile Jones, M. Sepulveda and M. Knightly. Crochet borders exhibit—Misses Louise Smith, Annie Martin and Anita Reagan.

The school will reopen on September the 3d, 1888.

A SISTER'S SEARCH.

Miss Jessie Hazlett Looking for Her Brother.

Miss Jessie Hazlett is in Los Angeles looking for her brother, Richard Dale Hazlett, who left his home, Ottumwa, Iowa, two years ago and has not since been heard from. Miss Hazlett, who is young, comely and modest-appearing, tells a strange story regarding her brother, his disappearance from home, and the failure of many strong efforts made by his family to ascertain his whereabouts.

The Hazlett family, the young lady states, is one of the best known in Ottumwa—in fact, is well known throughout that part of the State in which the city is located. Mr. Hazlett, Jessie's father, owns and operates a flouring mill there, and was once Mayor of the town. During his incumbency in this office, Richard Dale Hazlett, his son and the missing man, officiated as clerk to his father. He afterward embarked in the grain dealing business, going into partnership with a young man named George Eggers, now residing at Tulare. The two prospered, but finally decided to separate. Hazlett's health had been failing, and as he was soon to be married, he chose to start for Los Angeles in the hope of recuperating himself. He started, and Miss Hazlett says, wrote home from Denver, Pueblo, Tucson, and finally, on the 6th of December last, from Los Angeles. In this last missive young Hazlett stated he would spend Christmas week at Tulare, and would write home from there. This was the last heard of Hazlett. Eggers, his ex-partner, has written to Jessie Hazlett's father, and replied that Hazlett had not visited him Christmas time, and that he was not aware Hazlett proposed doing so, or was in the State. Numerous letters of inquiry were then sent from Hazlett's people to different parts of the State, but there came no news of the missing man. Ex-Chief of Police O. W. Franch, of Burlington, then started out here to look the man up. He searched, unsuccessfully, everywhere for him, and then returned to Ottumwa. Mr. Hazlett did not give up, but employed officers at San Francisco and in Portland, Oregon, to look for his son. No trace of him was found.

Miss Jessie Hazlett then decided to herself search for her brother and is here ready to begin her quest. The young lady says she thinks her brother may have become insane, or that he was shanghaied aboard some foreign bound vessel either at San Pedro, San Diego or San Francisco. She believes her family has a relative living here of whom they have not heard for years. This gentleman she says was a carpenter by trade and must be 38 or 40 years old. He left Iowa to seek his fortune in the West some years ago. Miss Hazlett will endeavor to unearth this relative, and in case she does, will enlist his services in the search for her brother in the South. The lady says she is well supplied with funds, and showed the HERALD man letters to Col. Hitchcock, of Colton, Mr. Thompson of the Stewart Hotel at San Bernardino, and Mr. Rowell, a hotel proprietor of Riverside. While sojourning here Miss Hazlett is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. Holt, former residents of her native town, Ottumwa, who live on Hoff street, in East Los Angeles.

WHITTIER OIL.

A Good Flow Struck in the Second Well.

The second oil well at Whittier was down five hundred and thirty-five feet on Wednesday morning, and at that depth the oil came pouring into it in great quantities, and gave evidence that before being pushed downward many more feet, the largest flow of oil in this part of the State would be obtained. The first well, the digging of which was stopped by the breaking of the pipe, has furnished enough oil to work the machinery in boring the second well, which has been sent downward quite rapidly. The result of the boring through the next few feet is awaited with interest. Mr. Hervey Lindley has gone to Whittier, and will probably return to-day, when a fuller report can be obtained. The telephone wires were down yesterday and prevented communication.

THE SUPERVISORS.

Only One Grand Jury Expert to be Paid.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday, a full membership present. The District Attorney filed his opinion as to the legality of the demands of the Grand Jury experts, and on motion of Supervisor Martin the first expert employed was allowed the amount of his demand, and the amounts of all others were disallowed. The contractor for the County Hospital was allowed to purchase any brick as good as those manufactured at Fulton Wells. D. J. Carr was appointed a member of the Horticultural Commission. The name of Maiseland school district was changed to Rivera. The Road Overseer was ordered to open the Vernon and Florence road in accordance with the map on file. A petition for a new road district, to be called the San Gabriel Cañon Road District, was denied.

A Sermon in Gaelic.

Rev. Dr. McLennan, of Canada, will preach a sermon in Gaelic in the U. P. Church, corner of Eighth and Hill streets, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Those who understand this fast dying out language will doubtless be pleased to seize such an opportunity of hearing it again.

A BIG RANCHO.

Sixty Thousand Acres Near the County Line.

During his stay at the Liebre ranch a HERALD reporter gleaned some interesting pointers about the place and its operations. The ranch proper, or the territory owned by General Beale this side of the Tejon, is one of the largest ranches in Southern California, consisting of 60,000 acres, which afford pasturage for between 15,000 and 20,000 head of cattle. The summer rodeo or round-up, for the purpose of branding the calves and selecting beeves for market, commenced on Monday, and is a very interesting affair for a visitor. The range is driven over in sections, about thirty miles being done each day. Mr. Pogson, manager of the ranch, says that the cattle-raising industry of Southern California is a very profitable one, as good prices can always be obtained for beef and the market is always firm. Los Angeles, however, cannot dispose of all of the Liebre ranch cattle, for at the two annual round-ups on that place so many stock are selected for market that the butchers here would be flooded, so to avoid this, most of the stock is driven into Bakersfield, and from that point shipped to San Francisco. The losses among the cattle are small, as they have no severe winters to contend with as in the other principal districts of the United States. One of the principal items in the profit and loss account is the operations of cattle thieves, and Mr. Pogson estimates that about one head a day is lost in this manner. The animals are not driven off in bunches as in Arizona and Texas, but individuals who go into the hills ostensibly for the purpose of hunting, very often contrive to bring down a nice fat steer, whose carcase is conveyed away in sacks or by other secretive means. A careful watch is, however, being kept for these light-fingered gentry, and a standing reward of $500 is offered for the arrest and conviction of any of them. The Liebre ranch rejoices in the possession of one of the finest springs in the country. It bubbles up like artesian water from just near the ranch house, and in the summer the fluid is as cool and refreshing as can be desired. Adjoining the Liebre Ranch is the Liebre Valley Ranch of 12,000 acres, the property of Mr. Wells, of the Safe Deposit Company of this city. It is a valuable piece of property and bids fair to spring into prominence, as a large English colony is to be located on it next November.

THE HARVEST.

The crops throughout Antelope Valley are fairly good this year, although grasshoppers have recently appeared in its western extremity, and are doing considerable damage there. Hay is the principal commodity, raised and the fact that it brings $15 a ton in that part of the country is a sufficient indication of the large profits accrued therefrom. Jackrabbits are a standing plague, and in spite of the many drives got up for their extermination these long-eared destroyers seem to multiply yearly. One of the settlers claims to have discovered a preparation which will effectually prevent their inroads on orchards or vineyards. A solution of sulphur and assafœdita is prepared and occasionally sprinkled about the plants to be guarded, and when this is done it is said that Mr. Conejo never fails but to give them a wide berth. There is a large amount of Government land still open to settlement in the part of the country described, and though some of it is absolutely worthless, there are yet many places which the homeseeker would do well to visit.

A LUCKY WIDOW.

A Weaver in the Woolen Mills Wins a $5,000 Prize.

A little woman who works in the Pioneer Woolen Mills has been very happy for the past three weeks. The cause of her joy she could not keep, and the news spread, and now the whole neighborhood knows that Mrs. Jennie Tiffany won $5,000 at the last drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery.

An Examiner reporter asked for her at the woolen mills yesterday.

A healthy, bright-eyed, pleasant-faced young woman, whose hands were covered with indigo stains came out of the weaving-room and introduced herself as the person sought for.

She said that she had two coupons for the drawing, and both drew prizes, one $5,000 and the other $50.

"Were you surprised when you learned of your winning?" asked the reporter.

"Of course it excited me some, but it wasn't exactly a surprise. I've been very lucky in the lottery. I've played it fourteen months, one or two tickets a month, and I have won seven prizes—once $5 and several times $10, $20 and 50. Everybody said that I'd win a big prize if I kept on, and I did."

"What will you do with your money?"

"I've already put it in the bank," she replied, with a shrewd look: "half in one bank and half in another, so that if even one bank should lose it all. I don't know whether I'll invest it at all. May be I will."

She laughed at a suggestion that $5,000 could give her a pleasanter life than she had been following and answered that she could not change her style of living. "I moved into larger rooms and got a few extra things," she said, "but I do not intend to quit work here or anything of that kind. I make from $30 to $35 a month here, and I don't know any reason why I should give it up."

Mrs. Tiffany is a widow, with one child. She has also supported her aged mother, to whom she has given $1,000 of her new fortune.—[San Francisco (Cal.) Examiner, June 2.

The Attempt to Make Black White.

It is important that, at the outset of the present campaign, the precise attitude of Gen. Harrison on the Chinese and Labor questions should be thoroughly known. Of course, if we establish that he has been the friend of the Coolie that fact alone demonstrates his hostility to Caucasian labor, on the geometrical principle that the greater contains the less. We are told in the scripture that you cannot serve God and Mammon. Christ announced that he who was not for him was against him, and the parable of the house divided against itself is familiar to every one. Gen. Harrison will not be permitted, in the coming campaign, to carry water on both shoulders. If he has been the demonstrative friend of the Chinese, as Mr. Michael H. De Young, of the Chronicle, and Gen. Dimond, assert him to have been, and as facts officially presented will prove, no after-thought will avail to protect him with the voters of this Coast.

Our esteemed contemporary, the San Francisco Call, has the following chunks of wisdom, "solid chunks," in connection with Gen. Harrison's painful record in this matter:

It is hardly worth while to go back to 1860 to ascertain the views of a public man on a question so little understood as that of Chinese immigration. It is of vastly more importance to know what he thinks now and what his record has been since the question became a national one. When anti-Chinese legislation was first proposed it did not commend itself to General Harrison's judgment. In those years he entertained the views which the Cleveland Administration still entertains.

This is a short paragraph and it contains three lies. Lie No. 1 is as to Gen. Harrison's position on the Chinese question. That gentleman does not occupy the position on the Chinese question occupied by Mr. Cleveland's administration. Lie No. 2, and the grosser and more damnable lie of the two, is that Mr. Cleveland's administration shares the views held by Gen. Harrison, for Cleveland's administration is and always has been thoroughly anti-Chinese. These two propositions seem to be identical, but a close examination of them will show an intelligent man that they are not, and that two separate lies are involved in this stupidly constructed falsehood. Lie No. 3 is that the Democratic party seek to go back to 1860 in its examination of Gen. Harrison's record. That gentleman simply had no record at that time except that of a plodding and unusually dull Hoosier lawyer.

The Democratic party, as respects Gen. Harrison's Chinese record, only proposes to go back to 1882, when that gentleman sat in the Senate of the United States, having been elected to that body in 1881. At that time the Chinese question had been exhaustively discussed. Mr. James G. Blaine, amongst others, had made a number of luminous speeches denouncing the infamy of Coolie labor, and this was the source of his quite exceptional popularity on this Coast. For three years preceding Mr. Harrison's advent in the Senate of the United States there had been great commotion and interminable debates on every phase of this matter on the Pacific Coast, and the telegrams detailing this sensational episode of our social and political history had been voluminously telegraphed to the Eastern press by the Associated Press and every other news agency. It was under these circumstances that the Republican nominee accumulated the record which is compendiously presented below in the proceedings of the 47th Congress. It should be borne in mind that a California Republican Senator, the late General Miller, was making a noble effort, supported by all the Democrats of the Senate, to stem the tide of Mongolian immigration to this Coast, and that the bill under consideration was one introduced by that gentleman restricting for twenty years the immigration of Chinese to this country. The following is a résumé of General Harrison's action in the premises:

The bill under consideration was that by Senator Miller restricting for twenty years the immigration of Chinese laborers to this country.

On the amendment offered by Senator Hoar, proposing to admit "skilled" Chinese laborers, the vote stood 17 in favor and 27 against, Senator Harrison voting aye. (See Congressional Record, Vol. I, Part I, page 1716.)

On Senator Hoar's amendment, providing for the admission of Chinese "artisans," the vote stood 19 ayes and 24 noes, Harrison voting aye. (Ibid., page 1717.)

On Senator Ingalls' motion to change the proposed period of restriction from twenty to ten years, the vote stood: Ayes, 20; noes, 21. Senator Harrison was absent, but Senator Maxey, with whom he was paired, announced that if present he would have voted "nay." (Ibid., page 1752.)

When the bill was finally passed, which it did by a vote of 29 ayes to 15 noes, Harrison was again absent, and Senator Maxey, again his "pair," announced that if present he would have voted for the bill. (Ibid., page 1755.)

President Arthur vetoed the bill, and in the effort made in the Senate to pass it over the veto, which failed for want of a two-thirds majority, Senator Harrison's vote was one of the 21 noes cast against 29 ayes. (Ibid., page 2617.)

On the 25th of April, 1882, House bill 5804, to restrain Chinese immigration, was favorably reported from the Committee on Foreign Relations by Senator Miller.

Upon this and every question in which the people of this Coast, irrespective of party, were interested, Senator Harrison was against them.

On an amendment by Senator Edmunds to the clause providing that "Chinese laborers" should mean persons usually engaged in manual labor, which failed of passage by a vote of 25 noes to 17 ayes, Senator Harrison's vote was among the affirmative.

Mr. Edmunds moved another amendment, intended to defeat the purpose of the anti-naturalization clause, which also failed of adoption. Senator Harrison was one of the sixteen who voted in favor of it, against twenty-five negatives.

The bill was then passed by a vote of 32 to 15, Harrison's vote being among the latter.

It should be borne in mind, in this connection, that the subject matter under discussion was not new, that the original Chinese bill had been vetoed by President Hayes, as the one under discussion was by President Arthur; and that no matter in our history had been debated more elaborately, Mr. Blaine contributing his acumen and luminous powers of presentation of any matter affecting the cause of the people. Thus, while Gen. Harrison erred, it cannot be charged that he erred without light.

A great deal has been said and will be said about Gen. Harrison's attitude on the naturalization of the Chinese. There was a distinct proposition to make naturalization of the Mongolians as American citizens impossible. The official record shows exactly how Gen. Harrison stood on that question. Of course he paltered in a double sense, as all these fine silk stocking Republican politicians did. But here is about what he said, quoted from the Congressional proceedings:

Mr. President, as this section now stands in the bill, it is the first time in the history of this nation, that Congress has undertaken to make prohibitions against naturalization. The constitution provides that Congress may make uniform rules of naturalization, so that no person can be admitted to citizenship without affirmative action by Congress. I do not wish, for one, to have Congress enact any statute which shall prohibit by affirmative declaration any person from becoming a citizen. He cannot become a citizen until Congress shall affirmatively provide that he may; and, as this section now stands, it is absolutely unique, probably not only in the history of this country, but of every other, and so I move this change so as to leave the law just as it is now in order to avoid what hereafter will be a very unhappy precedent, I am afraid, for a good many people.

Of course he voted against prohibiting Chinese naturalization.

Republican men and brethren, if you like Harrison, in spite of his pro-Chinese record, support him. It is your privilege. But save your poor, imperiled, shrinking consciences, by not lying about his record.

WHEN Republican politicians cry stop thief, you may be sure some Robeson, Ames, Chandler or other one of the pack is making off to cover with the mutton in his mouth. When the same worthies blow most loudly the bazoo of labor be sure it is in order to secure the election of some Philo-Chinese subservient tool of monopoly to office. So again in the present year of grace, when so much stress is being laid on an alleged allegiance between the Mills bill and the London Times, under cover of the smoke thus raised look out for some subterfuge. In this instance the purpose is probably to draw off attention from Mr. Levi P. Morton. The tail of the Republican kangaroo has a big banking house in London. Morton, Bliss & Co. do not confine their banking business—done for the sole benefit of the horny fisted toilers of course—to Wall street. The main bank controlled by this firm is in Cockaigne itself. Mr. Levi P. Morton's partner therein is Sir John Rose, the well known Finance Minister of Canada. Mr. Morton, through this London connection, was able to place $50,000,000 of railroad bonds for the N. Y. Central Railroad people. How very natural to find Mr. Millionaire Depew so enthusiastic for Mr. Millionaire Morton. It is suggested that as Sir John Rose has recently sailed from London for America, that he may be coming to the United States to stump the "States" for his "partner Levi." The ramifications of this house are interesting. In London it is Morton, Rose & Co.; in New York the legend runs Morton, Bliss & Co.; on the grand old party's ticket we may read Harrison, Morton, Chung Lung & Co. This ticket is entirely English, you know. Deuced English, you know. It is also Chinese, you sabee; belly Chinese, you sabee.

BILL CHANDLER is to the fore, and wants to get a bill passed for the rehabilition of our Navy. Bill did a good deal of rehabilition of the Navy in time past. He evidently dares hope his party will be returned to power. Then Bill would be Secretary of the Navy. Then there would be another Roach. Then the Roach monopoly would flourish as of yore. So would Bill. But the Navy would not. Neither Roach nor Chandler would dare go to sea in their own navy. They would have to be better swimmers than they are. Go to! thou plundering Billy Bowline of past naval infamy. The American people have done with you, with your party and with your navies. You are all but rotten tubs.

GEN. THOMAS J. CLUNIE, the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Fourth District, has disposed of Republican slanders as to the attitude of the Democracy in a very happy and satisfactory manner. He blandly remarks that if anybody says that the Democrats are in favor of free trade, he is a liar. If he say it a second, he is a horse thief.

"WHAT are we here for, if not to secure the Federal offices?" asked that eminent statesman and distinguished reformer of the civil service, Mr. Webster Flanagan, at the Republican Convention of 1884. In the light of the silk-hat, kid-glove, anti-labor nominee of 1888, it would seem as if that could not have been the purpose of the great assembly in this year of grace. To judge by the hosts of really disgruntled Republicans one meets, it appears as if the meeting was held in order that the Blaine or Bust ring of the g. o. p. might have an opportunity to disappoint the whole party, if the party should see fit to disappoint the enthusiastic followers of the White Cockade. The party did go disappoint that following, and vice-versa.

WE ARE amazingly improving. Instead of the three Rs of our victorious alliteration in 1884, we now have four Ms just as big. They are Millionaires, Monopolies, Mongols and Morton. Hurrah for the four big Ms!

THERE are pretty strong signs hereabouts that Morton's "bar'l" has had its head stove in and that its contents are in process of circulation. All of which is another striking instance of money thrown away.

REPUBLICAN interest in securing higher wages for the American toiler is proven by the spectacle of Mr. Blaine riding through Great Britain on Millionaire Carnegie's coach.

Ah Sing on Ah Ben.

You sabee Ah Ben,
He belly good man,
He heap catchee Plesident,
Alice same, if he can.

We votee all day,
To get him his seat,
And workee like helice
The Dem'clats to beat.

The party of Cleveland,
Is heap mighty bad;
They won't let us come,
And we feel belly sad.

So we vote for Ah Ben,
A good man and tlue,
And sing hallelujas,
From out the front pew.

You sabbee my clousin,
His name is Ah Fudge;
Ah Ben will be Plesident,
Then he will be judge.

Then all China will startee
For here mighty quick,
And then ebly Demclat
He heap gettee sick.

Then Ah Ben will makee
A mighty good boss,
We buildee big honsee
And make him our Joss.

Chief Cuddy we'll kill,
And his hide we will tan,
And on it we'll play
The game of fan-tan.

You sabee my bludder
Some take him For-a-ker,
He heap holler and beller
Me no sabee what fur!

He libe in Ohio
And heap catchee long que—
To helpee with the Ilish,
The Dutch and the Jew.

Me sabee the White House;
A belly nice place.
Ah Ben he surel catch him.
He heap run a race.

We'll have a big time,
And the pig we will kill;
And of lats and good licee
We'll all have our fill.

THE VETO POWER.

A Republican Subterfuge to Make Campaign Capital.

WASHINGTON, June 28. — Senator Davis to-day submitted to the Senate the report of the Committee on Pensions upon the eight vetoed pension bills, the merits of which the report discusses in detail, and the passage of which it recommends, the objections of the President, notwithstanding. The more interesting and important features of the report are embodied in a discussion of the veto power, and the danger with which, in the opinion of the Committee, its too frequent exercise is fraught. It says: "Since the 8th day of May, 1886, 136 special acts, granting pensions to individuals, have been disapproved by the President. These disapprovals were based in the great majority of cases upon the expressed opinion of the President that Congress has erred in its judgment upon mere questions of fact. It is of course impossible for the President to examine the mass of documentary evidence upon which each case depends, and which is invariably signed by the Committee and its fellows; when he disagrees with Congress upon a question of fact in these cases, his judgment must be based, not upon the reports of the Committee in which the facts are always stated with sufficient fulness, but upon the report of some subordinate in the Bureau of Pensions. This Bureau, whose action Congress has reversed, is thus enabled to review the action of Congress by the express direction of the President. This method of consideration is an abridgment by the Executive, of the exercise of the right of Congress to waive that straight proof which is required in ordinary cases in the Department. Usurpations move rapidly in Republics, from small objects to those of greatest concern. That power exists in the Executive to disapprove any legislative measure, cannot be denied, but duty undoubtedly also exists; and the veto power should not be used in such a manner, or upon any occasion or pretext, as to make its exercise operate as an encroachment upon the powers of the other departments of the Government. The right to so use the power of Executive disapproval, as to change the ordinary methods of legislative action by a majority vote upon the proper subjects of legislation, merely because the Executive differs from Congress upon a sufficiency of proof or expediency of relief, does not, in the opinion of your Committee, exist. Such misconception of the extent of the Executive power, making it limitless, is fraught with danger to the independence of Congress and to its constitutional powers, and it clearly implies that factions, or a usurping President, who proposes to subordinate it to his will, can rightfully do this and prevent the will of the people from taking statutory form, except by a two-thirds vote of each House of Congress.

Wife to Husband (who is ostensibly going off for a day's fishing)—"Ah, I do hope that you will be successful, John. I see that trout are quoted at $1 a pound." Husband—"No! One dollar a pound! I guess, my dear, I won't try for trout. I hear they are very shy. But you can look out for a nice string of flounders."—[Harper's Bazar.

PENSIONS AND CHEAP DRINKS.

How to Spend the Surplus and Give the People Taxed Bibles and Free Whisky.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, June 28.—In the Senate to-day, Davis, from the Pension Committee, reported back eight vetoed pension bills with the recommendation that they be passed, notwithstanding the President's objection. The eight bills were placed on the calendar. A motion to have the committee's report on them printed in the Record was agreed to, and a motion to print 5,000 copies of the reports was referred to the Committee on Printing. Faulkner stated that the Democratic members of the Committee on Pensions had not yet seen them.

Allison reported the Army Appropriation bill, and indicated his intention to call it up this afternoon.

Further consideration of the Fisheries treaty, and of Morgan's resolution thereupon, was postponed till Monday next.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the Rivers and Harbors Appropriation bill, the pending question being on the amendment appropriating $10,000 for the Yadkin River, North Carolina. The amendment was agreed to—37 to 8. Several other amendments were agreed to.

An unimportant amendment as to the improvement of the Muskingum river, Ohio, gave Edmunds an opportunity to state that he had given up the idea of persuading a majority of the Senate (doubtless more wise and patriotic men than himself) that any item could be rejected that was supported earnestly by a Senator from that locality. His respect for the Senate was such that he did not want to strive against manifest destiny and against the judgment of his fellows. It was useless and perhaps unjust for any one Senator to resist the judgment of the majority of the Senate in regard to a bill which contained so large a percentage of things which ought not to be done.

After disposing of fifty-seven of the ninety-seven pages of the bill it was laid aside.

The conference report on the Diplomatic and Consular bill was presented by Hale and agreed to. Hale said the only point there was failure to agree upon, was the amendment reported from the Committee on Foreign Relations and adopted by the Senate, for a Scientific Commission to the Upper Congo Basin. To that the House conferees were strongly opposed. Senators Sherman, Morgan and Edmunds made full statements to show the great importance of the proposition, Morgan suggesting the grand opportunity which the Upper Congo region offered for the African population of the United States, and Edmunds remarking that under the policy of the House, the United States was standing dumb and idle, while its great commercial rivals were obtaining control of all the markets of the world. On motion of Frye, the Senate still further insisted upon the amendment.

The joint resolution extending for thirty days the appropriations for the current fiscal year, where regular appropriation bills may not have passed before the 30th of June, was presented and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The Senate then took up the Army appropriation bill. One important amendment reported by the Committee was the insertion of an item appropriating $600,000 for cannon and carriages, projectiles, experiments in the means of projecting the torpedo line, etc., all the materials to be of American manufacture. The amendment was agreed to with an amendment adding after the word "projectiles," the words "increased facilities for their manufacture."

Hawley offered an amendment to insert an additional section appropriating $750,000 for an army gun factory at Watervleit arsenal, West Troy, N. Y.; $5,000,000 for the purchase of steel for high power coast defense guns, of 8, 10 and 12-inch calibre; $500,000 for the purchase of submarine mines, cable galleries and appliances to operate submarine mines; and $100,000 for the purchase of submarine controllable torpedoes and torpedo boats. A point of order was made against the amendment by Gorman, that it was neither germane nor relevent, but the point was overruled. Without action on the bill or amendment, the Senate adjourned.

DEMOCRATS EXPEDITING BUSINESS.

The Democrats of the Senate held an order of business caucus to-day, and formally decided, by vote, to insist on the postponement of all matters before the Senate, except the regular appropriation bills, and to oppose the usual adjournment from Thursday until Monday, the purpose being to secure the passage of the more important appropriation bills before the end of the fiscal year, and thus avoid the necessity of passing makeshift resolutions to keep the departments running.

THE HOUSE.

Mills Ventilates the Republican Free Whisky Plank.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The House to-day passed the joint resolution providing temporarily for the expenditures of the Government in case the appropriation bills have not become laws prior to July 1st.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Springer, of Illinois, in the chair, on the Tariff bill.

Baker, of New York, moved to strike from the free list vegetables in their natural state or in salt or brine, not specially enumerated or provided for.

Brewer, of Michigan, in supporting the motion referred to the strong competition which existed between the farmers of northern Michigan and those of the Province of Ontario, and he protested against the removal of the small tariff which was now laid upon the vegetables imported from Canada.

Browne, of Virginia, said the question presented was whether the farmers of this country should be permitted to feed the people of the United States, or whether the farmers of other countries should be allowed to do so.

Farquhar, of New York, ironically expressed his admiration for the generosity of the Committee on Ways and Means in opening the northern markets to Canadian farmers. If that was good American policy, let the Committee follow it. But along the Canadian border there were intelligent farmers who would give their opinion of this cut-throat legislation when November comes around.

Mills, of Texas, said that one of the objections made to the clause was that it removed the duty on potatoes. This was a mistake, as potatoes were especially provided for in another portion of the bill. The clause, he contended, was in the interest of the consuming classes, and he queried whether the Republicans would be willing to reduce taxation.

Brum, of Pennsylvania, suggested that they were ready to reduce internal taxes.

"Yes," replied Mr. Mills, "you want free whisky. You do not say in your platform that you want to reduce the duties on sugar and rice. The Convention has overruled what you have contended for. Your party demands you to go for free whisky; we will go with you before the country on this question. We demand a reduction on those things which enter into consumption as necessaries, and demand that the tax shall remain on whisky as it is to-day."

J. D. Taylor, of Ohio, challenged the statement that the Republican party was in favor of free whisky; all persons of the Republican party were in favor of abolishing internal taxes because they believed it to be an unwise system. That the Republican party was in favor of free whisky was absurd, and he repudiated the charge, saying in effect that the man, who would coldly, and with his judgment in his hand, assert that the Republican party was in favor of free whisky, might be developed according to the Darwinian theory for countless cycles of time without mounting intellectually to the position of a brevet ass. [Laughter and applause on the Republican side.]

The platform of the Republican party says it is in favor of the repeal of internal taxes. It says it is in favor of taking the tax off alcohol used in the arts, and that is not enough. It is in favor of taking off all internal taxes. That is what is understood by the country as being in favor of free whisky."

Mills said it was well known that the majority of the Republican party was opposed to the extreme position which the Republicans had taken in Chicago. For the first time, at Chicago, the Republican party had taken a positive stand before the American people in favor of keeping taxes on the necessities of life and demanding that the Treasury should be emptied by taking the tax off whisky. No amount of disclaiming would convince the people that that party, if in power, would take the tax off whisky and leave it on every article of necessity.

Kelly, of Pennsylvania, said that he advocated the repeal of the war taxes which Jefferson had denounced as an infernal system. He had demanded that the Democracy should walk in the steps of the forefathers of that party, and should maintain the holiest precedence by removing the supervision of the National Government from the fields, the factories and the orchards of the South. He had demanded that the Democrats carry out their platform of 1884, which promised an abolition of internal taxes. The gentleman from Texas could not deny that it was the Democratic promise in 1884 to the tobacco growers and distillers of the South, that they should be relieved from National surveillance and supervision. He had asked that this great service of revenue be remitted to the people of the States, and under the State laws to the municipalities of the State, and those who bear the burden of vice, crime and insanity, should have whatever revenue might be justly derived therefrom.

Reed, of Maine, thought the gentleman from Texas did not mean to be believed when he said the Republican party was for free whisky, because the gentleman knew there would not be enough Democrats left to make up the electoral ticket in half the States of the Union if they had confidence in his statement. [Laughter.] The gentleman, if he had taken the trouble to read the Chicago platform, knew his sentiment was one of those asservations which was worthy of the dignity of the stump, and not of the position of the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives. The position of the Republican party on this subject was too simple to be turned on this way, but if the Democratic party should ever commence a campaign without false statements, its own friends would not know it. If the gentleman from Texas meant to say he would hang on to the whisky monopoly and give it protection, let him say it, and let him say so openly and manfully, and not get behind a lot of miscellaneous sentences which meant nothing.

Weaver, of Iowa, criticized the internal revenue plank of the Chicago platform, and declared the issue could not be shirked and there could be no shuffling.

"I am a Democrat," interrupted Wise of Virginia, "and I am in favor of the repeal of the tobacco tax. [Applause on the Republican side.]

Weaver—"This bill provides for a reduction of that tax, but I say to the gentlemen from Virginia that his position in favor of the repeal of internal revenue taxes is not the position of this bill."

Wise—"My position is the position of the National Democratic party in 1884, and the platform of 1888 endorses the platform of 1884."

After some discussion Baker's motion was defeated and the Committee rose.

On motion of Randall, of Pennsylvania, the joint resolution was passed, extending for thirty days, from June 30th, the provisions of the existing appropriation laws, in case the appropriation bills are not passed before the end of the fiscal year.

Recurring again to the text of the Tariff bill, Mills presented the committee amendments, placing on the free list German looking-glass plates, blown and silvered, and striking out plums and prunes, which were adopted.

Buchanan, of New Jersey, moved to strike out chickory root, acorns, and dandelion root. The motion was defeated, as was also one made by Vandever, of California, to strike out cocoa, and another presented by McKenna, of California, to strike out figs.

Bynum, of Indiana, from the Committee on Ways and Means, moved to strike out pulp for paper-makers. Adopted.

Farquhar, of New York, offered amendments striking out books and pamphlets printed in other languages than English: lost.

Buchanan moved to add the words, "not edible," to the clause placing bulbs and roots, not medicinal, on the free list; lost.

The Committee amendments were agreed to, striking from the free list hatter's furs, not on the skin, and linseed or flaxseed; and marble of all kinds, in block, rough or squared, was also stricken from the free list.

On motion of Mills, amendment was agreed to striking from the free list plaster of Paris, when ground and calcined. The Committee then rose.

Belmont, of New York, called up the conference report on the Consulate and Diplomatic bill, and it was agreed to. It reports concurrence on all amendments, except that of an appropriation of $25,000 for a commission to explore the Upper Congo basin. The House then adjourned.

"THE COUNTY DEMOCRACY."

Governor Hill and Speaker Carlisle Stir the Hearts of the Gotham Democrats.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—The members of the Democratic Committee, appointed to notify Ex-Senator Allen G. Thurman of his nomination for the office of Vice-President, arrived in this city this morning. Accompanying the Committee were General P. A. Collins, of Massachusetts, and Hon. Stephen White, of California. At 1 o'clock the Committee went to Judge Thurman's residence, and it was announced that the meeting would be in that portion of the house occupied by his son. Judge Thurman speedily made his appearance from the drawing room on the south. He was greeted with a burst of applause as he came forward, leaning on the arm of his son, A. W. Thurman. As soon as the Judge had taken his seat and bowed to the gentlemen standing ready to receive him, General Collins advanced and, after shaking him by the hand, spoke as follows:

"Judge Thurman, we bear a message from the great council of your party. It is but a formal notice of your nomination by that body for the high office of Vice-President of the United States. Rich as our language is in power and expression, it contains no words to adequately convey the sentiment of that Convention, as its heart went out to you. I present my friend, Hon. Chas. D. Jacobs, Mayor of Louisville."

Mr. Jacobs stepped forward, and in an earnest voice read the formal letter of notification. The letter said in part:

The Democratic party spontaneously and emphatically demands your return to that political arena, which you graced with so much wisdom, dignity and vigor. The Democracy of this country have honored themselves by relieving their party from the charge of ingratitude, and we believe in November next the people will efface all such taint from the Republic, by electing you to preside over the most august deliberative body in the world, the Senate of the United States. [Applause.] Should so desirable a consummation be achieved, then indeed could every lover of his country, regardless of party or creed, rejoice that in you is embraced the highest type of the enlightened and refined American citizen, and that no matter what crisis might arise, this Government would be safe in your hands. [Applause.]

THE OLD ROMAN'S RESPONSE.

Amid profound silence Judge Thurman spoke as follows: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee, I pray you to accept my very sincere thanks for the kind and courteous manner in which you have communicated to me the official information of my nomination by the Democratic Convention. You know without my saying it, that I am profoundly grateful to the Convention and to the Democratic party for the honor conferred upon me, and more so that it was wholly unsought and undesired by me, not that I undervalued the distinction, which any man of our party, however eminent, might highly prize, but simply because I had ceased to be ambitious of public life; but when I am told in so earnest and impressive a manner that I can still render good service to the good cause to which I have ever been devoted, a cause to which I am bound by ties of affection, by the dictates of judgment, by a sense of obligation for favors so often conferred upon me, and by the fervent hope that the party may long continue to be able to serve the Republic, what can I under such circumstances do but yield my private wishes to the demand of those whose opinions I am bound to respect? [Applause.] Gentlemen, with unfeigned diffidence in my ability to fulfil the expectation that led to my nomination, I feel it my duty to accept and to do all that it may be in my power to do to merit so marked a distinction. Gentlemen

THE COUNTRY IS BLESSED

By an able and honest administration of the general Government. [Applause.] We have a President who wisely, bravely, diligently and patriotically discharges the duties of his high office. [Applause.] I fully believe the best interests of the country require his re-election, and the hope that I may be able to contribute somewhat to bring about this result is one of my motives for accepting a place on your ticket, and I also feel it my duty to labor for a reduction of taxes and to put a stop to that accumulation of surplus in the Treasury, that in my judgment is not only prejudicial to every financial welfare, but is in a high degree dangerous to honest and constitutional government. [Applause.] I suppose, gentlemen, I need say no more to-day. In due time, and in accordance with established usage, I will transmit to your Chairman the acceptance of my nomination, with such observations upon public questions as may seem to me to be proper. [Applause.]

A HAPPY GROUP.

A reception and elegant collation followed. Everyone remarked that Judge Thurman appeared vigorous and earnest, and his old friends say they have not seen him so vivacious and happy for months. It was a grand sight to see the old Roman surrounded by his admirers, and nothing would satisfy the Committee but that a photographer should take a group picture of the gathering, which was done, and the Committee then departed.

Before going to Judge Thurman's a meeting of the Committee was held at the Neil House, this proving a pleasant occasion, since

CANE PRESENTATIONS

Were in order. The meeting organized by electing Hon. W. D. English, of California, as chairman, and M. V. Ream, of Ohio, as secretary. Mr. Dixon, of Wyoming Territory, with an able speech presented General Collins a gold-headed cane. Mr. Strange, of North Carolina, did the same to Hon. Stephen M. White, of California, and Mr. Bryan, of Tennessee, was commissioned to present one to Hon. H. W. Barnum, of Connecticut.

COUNTY DEMOCRACY.

Grand Ratification of the Ticket in New York.

NEW YORK, June 28.—An enthusiastic and largely attended mass meeting was held to-night under the auspices of the Young Men Democrats in the Academy of Music and Wilson Hall, to ratify the nomination of Cleveland and Thurman. The halls were beautifully decorated, and every seat was filled. Most prominent among the decorations were the colors of Ireland and Germany.

Shortly after eight o'clock, the appearance of Speaker Carlisle and Governor Hill, on the platform, escorted by D. Willis James, Ex-Mayor Cooper, Senators McPherson and Murphy, was the signal of an outburst of applause and waving of bandanas. Three cheers were called for Governor Hill, and given with enthusiasm.

Senator Murphy called the meeting to order and introduced D. Willis James as chairman of the evening. As James advanced to the front of the platform a large banner draped with flags and bearing the portraits of Cleveland and Thurman, was lowered and displayed in full view of the audience. It was greeted with cheers and applause. James, on behalf of the audience, expressed thanks to the ladies whose presence graced the meeting and returned his own thanks for the honor paid himself.

LETTERS OF REGRET.

A number of letters of regret were read from gentlemen who had been invited to be present. The first was from Congressman Perry Belmont. In his letter he said: "The decline of our merchant marine and the loss of our proper trade relations, outshipped in the foreign markets, as we are, by our great commercial rival, England, are in themselves sufficient reasons for Congress to make a change in our tariff law. The Mills bill is not a free trade measure, but is a step directly in accord with the growing needs of our fiscal and commercial system, namely the reduction of the surplus and an increase in our foreign trade."

A letter was then read from Mayor Hewitt; the announcement of his name was received with mingled cheers and hisses, both continuing for some time, when the Secretary was at last enabled to read the letter. Mayor Hewitt's declaration that his duties would not permit him to take part in politics, was received with laughter. Later the Mayor's declarations in regard to the tariff were greeted with applause.

THE TICKET RATIFIED.

There were a number of other letters read. At the conclusion of the reading of these letters Corporation Counsel Beekman read a series of resolutions warmly endorsing the nomination of Cleveland and Thurman, and pledging to them the united support of the Democrats of New York. The resolutions were adopted unanimously.

There were many cries of "Hill," and these in turn were met by cries of "Carlisle." When the Chairman obtained a hearing, however, and had mentioned Speaker Carlisle, the audience broke into enthusiastic and unanimous applause. Men rose to their feet in all parts of the house and waved bandanas, fans and hats, while the Speaker quietly advanced and modestly waited until the applause subsided.

CARLISLE'S SPEECH.

Carlisle said: Four years ago it was said the election of a Democratic President would be immediately followed by the prostration of our manufacturing industries, the derangement of our finances, debasement of our currency and destruction of public credit, and that even the civil and political rights of the people would not be secure. According to these partisan prophets, the Supreme Court of the United States was to be reorganized and the Constitutional amendments annulled; the Confederate debt was to be paid and the Confederate soldiers pensioned; the colored race was to be reinstated in slavery in the South; the doctrine of secession was to be reasserted and the soldiers and sailors of the Union were to be deprived of the pensions and bounties, heretofore granted to them, and all the terms and conditions of the adjustment which succeeded the late civil war, were to be entirely disregarded. These preposterous predictions were based upon the assumption that the Democratic party possessed neither patriotism nor common sense. They were founded upon the absurd supposition that five million American citizens, with all their interests as individuals and members of a community, dependent upon the stability of our social and political institutions, would deliberately proceed as soon as they were entrusted with power, to destroy the foundation of their own safety and prosperity. Incredible as it may appear, there were undoubtedly some people in the country who really believed these extravagant assertions, and allowed their suffrages to be controlled by them, but they cannot be deceived again. The Democratic party has not only demonstrated its capacity to execute the departments of the Government in strict accordance with the Constitution and laws, but it has set an example of fidelity to the interests of the people and integrity in the discharge of official duties which will be of influence to the country through all time to come.

THE CANDIDATES EULOGIZED.

He eulogized the Democratic candidates and added: That grand old man (Thurman), the leader in many fierce contests for the principles of his party, has been called once more from his retirement to participate in a great struggle and witness its final, permanent triumph over its old antagonist. Its final and permanent triumph because, unless all the signs of the times are deceptive, the Republican party cannot survive another defeat in the National contest. Its cohesive power will be destroyed and it will fall to pieces, as all its predecessors have done. Its dismembered parts will be converted into warring factions, or will form themselves into a new party under the same name. For fifteen years it has had no mission, except to

FOMENT STRIFE AND DISCORD

Among the people, and no ambition except to hold office and control the expenditure of public moneys. And yet during all that time it has paraded itself as the special guardian and sole custodian of public interest, and as the only political organization having patriotism and wisdom to govern the country.

We have as much interest as our opponents can possibly have in the continued prosperity of all our varied industries. We recognize that the fast development of a country like this requires the investment of immense amounts of money and the employment of manual labor and mechanical appliances to an extent unknown in the history of the world heretofore, and we are therefore in favor of that policy which will most certainly and permanently encourage such investments and secure the highest rewards for the labor necessary to make them profitable. Democracy makes

NO WAR UPON CAPITAL,

But it denounces the monopolies and combinations as gross and dangerous violations of the law, the trade, and the rights of the people. It is and always has been the friend of labor, and it will continue to stand for the rights of the millions of toilers for their daily bread, in every conflict with those who seek to depress or degrade them. Why should the Republican party be restored to the position from which the people drove it by their votes four years ago? Every abuse it now denounces or complains of was inaugurated by itself when it had absolute control in the departments of the Government. Every reform it now promises was made necessary by its own legislative and executive action.

AS TO THE MILLS BILL.

Carlisle further reviewed the fallacy of the Republican claims; its relations to trusts, homesteads, naval and merchant marine, civil service reform and finances. As to the Mills bill he said: "I think it is safe to say that nine tenths of the people who are daily denouncing it, have never read it, and perhaps would not understand it if they had." He then proceeded to explain the salient points of the bill in question, particularly the sections regarding wool, tobacco and whisky. He declared that Democracy does not advocate free trade, but believes the interest of all our manufacturing and other industries would be advanced; that the wages of all our laborers would be advanced, and the general welfare of the whole country greatly promoted by repealing, as far as possible, the taxes upon raw material, and reducing our taxes upon actual necessities of life, and upon this simple proposition it proposes to stand or fall in the great contest now before us. The audience listened with interested attention to Speaker Carlisle, frequently applauding his sentences. At the conclusion of hisspeech, a storm of applause broke out. He was followed by Gov. Hill, who was warmly received with applause and cheers.

Coast Callings.

The Oregon State Medical Society elected the following officers: President, Dr. J. F. Page, Astoria; Secretary, Dr. C. Strong, Portland.

The Southern Pacific officials state that the utlook for fruit for shipment is so great that possibly a fruit train per day will be put on during the shipping season.

Ramatho, a rancher of Los Osos, was dragged over the dashboard of his wagon by his team, falling under the horses' heels. He had his skull fractured and his arm and shoulder broken, and will probably die.

John Drummond, who had been at San Diego speculating in real estate for more than six months, returned to Ashland, Ore., last week and has committed suicide, by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. The Coroner's inquest found despondency from losses in speculating the cause of the suicide.

Capt. Charles Goodall, Jr., will leave San Francisco on Monday for Chester, Pa., to bring out to this Coast the new steamer Corona, just completed by Harland & Hollingsworth, for the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. The Corona will be put on the southern coast route, between San Francisco and San Diego. The vessel is 2,000 tons measurement, and has accommodations for 175 cabin passengers. She will be fitted up with all the latest improvements in regard to the comfort and safety of the passengers. It is expected by the Pacific Coast Company that the steamer will attain a speed of eighteen knots per hour.

Eastern Echoes.

Hon. M. M. Estee, of San Francisco, Chairman of the late Republican Convention at Chicago, is visiting his birthplace, in Erie county, Pa. He will preside at the ratification meeting at Erie, on Saturday evening.

Hon. Creed Haymond, Chairman of the California delegation to the Chicago Convention, has arrived at Denver, homeward bound. He will meet a party of California friends there to-morrow, and they will spend the heated season in visiting summer resorts in the mountains of Colorado.

Mr. Scott, the executor of the estate of Frank Riley, who was killed at Las Animas, Col., by Architect Call, of Denver, has property in Chicago and Colorado valued at $400,000. All efforts to discover the heirs have proven fruitless, although he was known to have two sisters in America and a brother in Paris, France.

Late advices from Indian Territory say that the Chickasaw Indian police, aided by the Deputy United States Marshal, are disarming every man who is carrying a pistol, contrary to the tribal laws. Purcell was raided yesterday and the searchers were rewarded with about a wagon load of six-shooters which they took from different individuals. This precautionary step is taken on account of the war which may break out any day between the Chickasaws and the cattlemen on account of a refusal to pay tax on stock by the latter.

Foreign Flashes.

Dr. Fothergill, the author of a number of English medical works, is dead.

The French Government has bought Maxim's new repeating gun which fires sixty rounds a minute.

Emperor William has written a letter appointing General Oberst, to the rank of Field Marshal, as a token of gratitude for his important services in restoring the Empire and for his affectionate, paternal and useful counsel.

Commissioner Bigelow gave a banquet at the Hotel Britannique, Brussels, to celebrate the opening of the American section of the exhibition. Judge Limbertree, United States Minister, proposed a toast in honor of King Leopold. Prince Chimay toasted President Cleveland.

Washington Wirings.

Bond offerings to-day were $5,309,000, acceptances, $24,250.

Governor Stevenson, of Idaho, has notified the Department of the Interior that three hundred Indians are camped in the Juniper Mountains, thirty miles from Silver City, killing cattle and intimidating settlers, and asks that they be compelled to return to and remain on their reservation.

GENERAL SHERIDAN.

The removal of General Sheridan to Nonquitt has been postponed until to-morrow.

9:30 P. M.—General Sheridan seems to be more comfortable since the weather has grown cooler. He has rested well all day. His contemplated transfer from his home to Swatar was postponed on account of rain.

The Aggie Encounters a Gale.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28. — The schooner yacht Aggie arrived in port late this evening to make ready for the race to San Diego with the Lurline on Saturday. The Aggie's delay was due to her encountering a sea gale near San Luis Obispo, which carried away her headgear and main-topsail. She put into San Simeon, where the damage was repaired. It is thought the start will not be made before Sunday or Monday.

Cut in Seamen's Wages.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—The Pacific Coast Shipping Association have decided to make a cut in the wages of coasting seamen of $5 a month, which reduces the present standard of $45 to $40, to open ports; $40 to $35 to other ports; $35 to $30 to Honolulu.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[The tenor of communications appearing in this column is not necessarily endorsed by the editors of the HERALD. The writer who desires to be heard in it should always accompany his screed with his full name, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.]

Anent That Pest House.

EDITORS HERALD: Much has been said in the papers about the Pest House being built in Elysian Park, but not too much, if thereby the park can be saved to the use of the public.

The City Attorney, by his opinion, has decided that it would be unlawful to build the Pest House, or hospital, in the park, unless "the Council should determine the Pest House an improvement," etc.," and his opinion (not legal) is quite witty.

The statement that the park is a barren place is merely a statement, and not a fact. When the place was examined by competent men with a view to placing the Soldiers' Home therein, no such view was taken of it, but it was pronounced a fit place for such a fine institution, which requires soil, not rocks.

The future of the city should be looked to, and Los Angeles City is entitled to escape the condition of many older cities which mourn continually the lack of parks, for their people's enjoyment and health, by reason of the penny-wise-and-pound-foolish action of their councils or people in not preserving, or in not procuring park grounds when it was available.

Finally, the people opposed to the locating of the Pest House in the park are determined to exhaust every legal means of preventing such an outrage on the present and future interests of our city.

CITIZEN.

The Sewage Again.

TO EDITORS OF HERALD: To this little sewer project set forth by Wednesday's Times I wish to call public attention, and for the reason that I consider it a matter of public interest.

Municipal government is not established for the purpose of showing how much money can be taken from the people, but rather to confer benefits upon the individuals collectively, and while one of the most pressing needs of public interest at this time is proper sewerage, our local statesmen and financiers should keep in mind that immediate or pressing necessities are not an excuse for wanton, extravagant or useless expenditure of public funds. Without criticizing the article in the Times, setting out in a light intended to deceive those unfamilar with such matters, what I consider to be a lift out of the public of about $60,000, I wish to set forth as a fact, apart from the question, that a cement pipe is not desirable for sewage, and that a thirty-inch pipe will not carry on that grade one-fourth of the sewage, to be connected within six months after it is completed; as to the cost to the city, thirty-inch cement pipe, one part cement and two parts sand, best quality, flat bore in that quantity should be laid at a big profit, at $1.50 per foot; trenching and filling, 3 ft. x 6 ft., 75 cts. per cubic yard; two-thirds yard per linear foot, 50 cts. This is an enormous price but it gives a total of only $2.00 per linear foot, and 33,000 feet at $2.00 is $66,000. Any man familiar with the grade of the Southern Pacific Railroad knows that the trench and fill can be done at a profit for 25 cts. per cubic yard. What then is the city going to pay the extra $60,000 for, and will the same question arise in a few months that now vexes the Vernon district? Now the fact that one of the Councilmen and a member of the sewer committee can furnish a man to do the work, and take city bonds for $75,000, the other $50,000 to be paid in cash, may be tempting, especially as the bonds look like a bonus for doing the work, but let us all have a chance. Cured by Thermometer.

The importance attached to a clinical thermometer by those in ignorance of its office approaches a superstition. They close their lips tightly upon it. Their eyes roll wildly around the room. They believe that the tube contains some mighty gas or a metal of mysterious power. "There ain't much taste to it, docther," said one of these credulous fellows, "but I s'pose it's turrible sthrong." Dr. ——, who is something of a wag, encouraged the man's faith in the occult virtues of the thing, and with remarkable results. After the first "dose," the fever abated. The "treatment" was continued, and the patient actually recovered, cured by thermometer, administered ter in die, without further drugging.—[Scribner's Magazine.

TRACT,

CENTRAL AVENUE.

Between Eighth and Vejar Sts.

This beautiful tract, situated near the heart of the city, was cut up and thrown upon the market after the so-called big boom of last year had

"folded its tent like the Arab
And silently stolen away."

But owing to its splendid location, moderate prices and liberal terms it has enjoyed a healthy

BOOMLET

From the moment when it was first placed before the public. It is the general favorite among the many beautiful subdivisions of the City of the Angels, and nothing will be left undone by the owners to make the tract the most attractive residence property east of Figueroa street. When all the improvements now under way and in contemplation will have been completed, some future Wordsworth, standing at the corner of Eighth street and Central avenue, and seeing the beautiful young settlement of lovely homes on the Weill tract, and the grand old mountain range of the Sierra Madre looking down proudly upon it, may well exclaim:

"Earth has not anything to show more fair;
Dull would he be of soul, who could pass by
A sight so touching in its majesty."

Full particulars in regard to prices and terms of the Alexandre Weill Tract, can be obtained at the office of the undersigned, who will be most happy to give intending purchasers a free ride and show them the property.

MURDER OF A WIFE AND BROTHER

'Frisco's Bosses to be Dethroned. Citizens Request Reform. News Nuggets.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD]

LOUISVILLE, June 28.—Word reached here this afternoon from Harlan, Ky., that on Saturday Marion Stewart shot and killed his wife and his brother, near that place. Marion and John Stewart, Tip Osborne and Jeff Hall were playing cards, when a dispute arose over some point in the game. All had been drinking, and blows passed. Marion then drew a navy revolver and shot John through the brain. He turned to shoot Osborne, who is his step-son. Osborne ran, followed by Stewart. Mrs. Stewart interfered and got a bullet in the temple. Osborne by this time had escaped, and Stewart turned his attention to Hall. Hall got away, but came back half an hour later, when Stewart again tried to kill him, but Hall again escaped. Seeing his wife lying dead outside the door and his brother in a dying condition inside, Stewart turned to his eldest daughter, 14 years old, and said "Good bye, do the best you can for the children," and started up the mountain side. The children carried their dead mother into the house where their father's brother was dying. Mrs. Stewart leaves seven children, the oldest 14 years of age and the youngest a baby nursing. John Stewart leaves a wife and a small family. No attempt at arrest has been made, although Tip Osborne has sworn vengeance against Stewart for killing his mother.

NEED OF REFORM.

Bossism to be Dethroned at the Coast Metropolis.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—A circular is being sent out by a committee of citizens to influential people in all parts of the city asking them to unite in an effort to reform the city government, and assist in "the overthrow of bossism, and elevate to places of public trust and responsibility only honest and competent men." The circular asserts that National and State politics will not be meddled with.

Democratic Campaign Committe.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Wm. H. NEWS NUGGETS

Mined from the World's Mountains of Daily Happenings.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of J. W. Pearson, of San Francisco, charging him with embezzling $80,000 from the stockholders of the Phil Sheridan mine.

Joseph Greenfield, who stole furs valued at $2,500 from his father's store, at 670 Broadway, N. Y., was charged with theft in court by his father, and committed in default of bail for trial.

The Landtag, by unanimous vote, agreed upon an address in reply to King William's speech. There was no debate upon the motion for the adoption of the reply. The members of the House, upon separating, cheered the King.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Republican State Club, Gen. W. H. L. Barnes, President, was elected delegate to represent California, at the meeting of the National Republican League, to be held at New York, July 11th.

Theodore Castor, a farmer, was attacked on his way home from Kingston, Mich., by three brothers, named Drost, who demanded his money. He shot one dead, fatally wounded another, and thinks he hit the third, who escaped.

The Berlin correspondent of the St. James Gazette states that General Von Caprivi, chief of the Imperial Admiralty, has tendered his resignation of that office. His resignation will doubtless be accepted. The correspondent also states that other changes will follow.

The Superior Court declined to grant a writ of error in the case of Alexander Goldenson, the murderer of Mamie Kelly. Application will be made to Justice Field for a writ of error when he arrives at San Francisco in about two weeks.

Under instructions from President Diaz, Mexican officials in every town or village in the State of Sonora will begin collecting subscriptions for the benefit of the sufferers by the floods in Silao and Leon.

Work has begun on the new line of railroad to run from Fairbank, on the New Mexico and Arizona Railroad, a branch of the Santa Fe system, tapping the Southern Pacific at Benson to Bisbee, where the mines of the Copper Queen Mining Company are located. The distance is about forty miles.

Suit has been commenced by J. B. Mayo and Franklin Spencer, stockholders of the American Exchange National Bank, against David W. Irwin, to compel him to refund to the bank $399,000. The suit is the outgrowth of the celebrated June wheat deal of 1887, which wrecked the Cincinnati Fidelity Bank and E. L. Harper.

The annual session of the American Society of Civil Engineers opened at Milwaukee Thursday. Owing to the death of a member of his family, the President of the society, Thomas C. Keefer, was not present at the Convention. The meeting was called to order by Vice-President Croes. Mayor Brown made the address of welcome. Two hundred members and their ladies were present.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Republican Ticket as Sized Up by the Eastern Press.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette strongly endorses the nomination.

Cincinnati Enquirer: From the beginning to the end Blaine's friends had their own way and dominated the result.

Louisville Courier-Journal: The Democracy have escaped a serious danger. The strategy of the situation was Harrison and Depew.

St. Louis Republican: The country is to be congratulated on a make-shift nominee.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The ticket will undoubtedly prove strong and popular.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: Under such a leadership the Republicans will carry forward an earnest, enthusiastic, aggressive campaign.

Boston Advertiser (Rep); The ticket has strength and character and the names will bring out strength from the localities from which they are drawn.

Boston Journal (Rep): The selection of the Chicago Convention is cordially approved by the Republican party, and will be ratified sure by the Republicans in November.

The Washington Post: The Chicago ticket is strong enough for all practical purposes. Harrison is a thoroughly respectable candidate, and the Republicans can elect him if they can anybody.

Boston Globe (Dem.): Harrison is the second shadow cast by Blaine across the Presidential arena of his time. Garfield was the first, Harrison is the other. He will fare as well as Hayes did, too, at the polls, only more so.

Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.): The nomination is entirely fit to be made, though we do not think it is the best that was before the Convention. It is one of the results that had to follow the logical demands of the situation.

The London Times attributes the failure of the Republicans to nominate Blaine, to his absence from the country, but it adds: "As he is no friend to England we can afford to regard his defeat with considerable equanimity."

CAN'T CARRY INDIANA.

Indianapolis Sentinel (Dem): General Harrison's nomination is not in any sense a strong one. He is lacking in most of the qualities which combine to make a great party leader and popular candidate before the people. General Harrison cannot carry Indiana, and he cannot be elected. He is identified with the cause of monopoly, and in this campaign monopoly is going to be defeated.

UGLY CHINESE RECORD.

The St. Paul Globe (Democratic) lauds Judge Gresham and attributes Harrison's nomination to Jay Gould, adding, "Harrison is an amiable man, whose grandfather was President for a month nearly fifty years ago. He is an Indiana lawyer, and served a term in the United States Senate, where his record, except being very ugly on the Chinese and labor questions, was inoffensive so far as we remember."

DISTINGUISHED ANCESTRY.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: The ticket is one which should command unhesitating support and devotion to Republican principles. General Harrison needs no introduction. He has descended from a long line of distinguished ancestors, and is himself a leader among men, and among all the Presidential aspirants none took rank above him for intellectual capacity and integrity.

TROUBLE BREWING

In the Ranks of the National Guard.

There is said to be the biggest kind of a "kick" existant among the members of the National Guard of the State resident in Los Angeles county. While not in open mutiny; in fact, far from it, "the boys," as the genially youthful Guardsmen are popularly known as,are in a state of sullen discontent, enjoying or otherwise, a feeling that must needs soon crop out and make itself felt, not alone in Guard circles, but in political circles of the county. A HERALD man first learned of the disaffection among the Guardsmen while conversing with a member in front of the Nadeau House yesterday afternoon. "The sooner somebody comes to the conclusion that a militia man don't have to vote the way officers say he shall, the better off for the service really required of it will be this county's branch of the National Guard," was what the young man said after he and the HERALD man had exchanged the usual greetings.

"What's the matter now?" queried the reporter.

"Well, things have been going bad with us. There is much disaffection, and especially with those of the Guard who are Democratic politically. You see we recently were put under a new head. General Boyce succeeded General Mathews, and then Major Russell got the Colonelcy and Butler was made to fill the Major's spurs. We, or let me say a number of the boys did not like the way that thing was done, and we did not and do not like the way the new regime is running the Guard. The thing savors, to us, too strongly of being worked as a political machine."

"Is that all?"

"Well, no;" responded the Guardsman. "The Seventh Infantry Band in Manager Campbell had a good business man at the head of it. Campbell has been removed through somebody's influence, and we all think because of politics. Then again, we have heard today that Adjutant-General Perrie Kewen is to be removed and that a famous Lieutenant of a Pomona Company is to have his place. Kewen is a Democrat and the Lieutenant is a Republican who we know was instrumental in getting Major Russell a Colonelcy, and thereby getting for himself an Assistant Adjutancy here in the regiment. We believe that the excuse for beheading Kewen will be that he purposes removing from Sacramento down here shortly. All these things point to the machine business, and many of us are averse to politics of any kind working into the Guard. It has caused the breaking up of the band which, I am told will be reorganized on the old amateur basis. The new "F" Company is dissatisfied the most I believe, but I know disaffection is growing in the Guards and I am sorry for it too. It all comes from the the desire of leaders to give the Guard here political significance.

The HERALD man next sought Colonel Russell and found him in his office. He was questioned concerning the Guard and of what the reporter had been informed. Colonel Russell flatly denied that theGuard was worked as a political machine. He admitted there might be some disaffection and seemed anxious to have any statement regarding it kept quiet. "It is no matter to creep into the newspapers," said Colonel Russell, "anyhow, and it should not be published. The Campbell matter amounts to nothing. He was let out of the Band about four weeks ago and the Band is to be reorganized on the amateur basis soon. We do not allow politics to enter Guard affairs." Several resident members of the Guard were seen afterward. From them the impression was gained that all is not as smooth as Clear Placid Lunan in Guard circles, and it was openly avowed that in case things were not run more to the taste of the rank and file than to the wearers of official epaulettes, trouble would certainly occur. It seemed to be the general impression that politics too actively engrossed the attention of the officials and too strongly determined their actions in the Guard.

TO MR. SPENCER.

Some Nuts for His Iron Jaw to Crack if They Can.

LOS ANGELES, June 27.

EDITORS HERALD—In Mr. S. F. Spencer's eleventh repetition of the time-honored and time-worn arguments for excessive protection, published in to-day's Tribune, he attacks a statement of Speaker Carlisle—"a gentleman with whose personal acquaintance Mr. Spencer is honored." Pending Mr. Carlisle's answer, which of course will not arrive in the course of the mails for a couple of weeks yet, permit me to ask Mr. Spencer a few questions suggested by the following table of weekly wages, clipped from his article, made up of "figures that cannot be denied":

OCCUPATION.	France.	Germany	Italy.	England.	United States
Bricklayers..	$4.00	$3.00	$3.45	$8.12	$12 to 15
Carpenters ..	5.42	4.00	4.18	8.25	9 to 12
Painters. ..	4.90	3.92	4.60	7.25	10 to 16
Plumbers ..	5 50	3 60	3 50	7.75	12 to 18
Cab't makers	6.00	3.97	4.95	7.70	9 to 13
Coopers.. ..	7.00	3.30	4.35	7.30	12 to 16
Blacksmiths	5 45	3.55	3.94	8.10	10 to 14
Bakers	5.55	3.50	3.90	6.50	7 to 8
Gasfitters ..	.....	3 65	3.95	7.25	10 to 14

Question First: Why are wages so much lower in protected European nations than in Free-Trade England, if as you say, protection keeps up wages?

Question Second: Since wages are so much lower in France, Germany and Italy, than in England, why are not English markets deluged, and English industries ruined, by a flood of the p o ducts of the "pauper labor" of those continental countries in accordance with Mr. Spencer's theories?

Question Third: If a higher wage country cannot compete with a lower wage country, how is it that higher wage England sold to lower wage France three and a half million pounds sterling worth of woolen goods in 1883, the same amount in 1884, three millions worth in 1885, and of cotton goods two millions worth in each of those years? How is it that higher wage England sold to lower wage Germany of woolen goods two and a half million pounds, sterling, in each of the years, 1883, 1884 and 1885; of cotton goods, three and a half millions in 1883 and in 1884, and over three millions in 1885; of iron goods an average of over a million's worth in each of those years; of machinery, a million and a half worth each year? How is it that higher wage England sold to lower wage Italy in 1885, of cotton goods, nearly two million pounds, sterling; of iron, including wrought iron, over half a million pounds worth; of woolen goods, nearly a million, and of machinery, over half a million?

How is it that Germany, in return, although it pays lower wages than England, was unable to sell England—free trade England—hardly anything but raw agricultural and food products? That Italy could sell England only the raw products of its soil, and wine? Why did low-wage Italy in 1885 import from higher wage England goods to the value of 314,000,000 lire and export to England not quite 74,000,000 lire worth—a balance against her of over 240,000,000 lire?

Mr. Spencer can verify these figures and at the same time get similar data for other years from the Statesman's Year Book for 1887, in the Los Angeles Public Library.

Another question: How is it that, as Mr. Spencer says, the necessaries of life cost from 20 per cent. to 40 per cent. more in Europe than in the United States, when the labor on them costs so much less? And what is the use of a tariff—a high tariff—on any of those necessities of food, clothing or shelter, if they already cost more abroad?

Can Mr. Spencer's theories be wrong—or will our statisticians have to revise their year books? C. A. M.

CITY LAND.

The Title to the Lot on Which Engine House No. 38 Stands.

The case of Mrs. Bigelow against the City of Los Angeles to decide as to who is the owner of the lot on which Engine House No. 38 is located, has been decided in favor of the city by Judge O'Melveny. Mr. Bigelow claimed a lot fronting easterly on Negro alley 155.5 feet, on the southeasterly line of Plaza 109.17 feet, thence southerly 151.10 feet, thence to place of beginning 102.8 feet. The answer denied this claim and alleged that the land had been dedicated to public use for right of way and Plaza purposes for more than fifty years. The original deed, dated from Los Angeles by the Alcalde, Don Manuel Requena, was dated December 17, 1836, and conveyed to one Leandry two parcels of land, a house and lot, and also a vacant space in front of it measuring 37 varas to the north, and 23½ varas wide least and west. The property described in the Requena deed became vested in 1851 in Mrs. Francisca O'Campo, who was formerly the wife of Leandry, but in 1857 was the wife of Francisco O'Campo. There were no other deeds of conveyance from the city embracing any of this open space, and from 1836 to the time the engine house was built in 1884, it was vacant and used for purposes of passing and repassing over it by the public, and was the only direct passageway from the original Plaza to and from Negro Alley. Judge O'Melveny says in his opinion that it is remarkable that if this had been considered private property, that no buildings were ever erected upon it until 1884, and that this space should remain vacant for some cause or other for at least forty-eight years and was used for public travel during all that time. In 1847 the Common Council fixed and defined the boundaries of the Plaza, which embraced the whole vacant space. Against this appropriation of her property, Mrs. O'Campo made no resistance, but in 1855 she petitioned the Council for indemnity for the land so taken, and the city on March 27, 1855, ordered conveyances to her of other property in lieu of that appropriated to the Plaza. Judge O'Melveny holds that these proceedings, with the uninterrupted use by the people, and the absence of all actual improvement since 1847 is sufficient evidence of its dedication to make it a part of the Plaza. In 1872 another attempt was made to induce the city to sell this lot to ex-Governor Pio Pico, but the city refused, and Mrs. O'Campo was one of the protestants against this sale. The judge decided that the land was not subject to be assessed for or sold, or conveyed for taxes. The city had no power to sell or convey it, or to in any manner extinguish the trust, much less could Mrs. O'Campo do so by deed or mortgage.

Open To-day.

To-day the Kuhrts-street Car Line is to be thrown open to traffic, and cars will operate between Temple street and the Mission road. This means an incalculable boon to the residents of East Los Angeles, who will now have a through direct communication with the heart of the city. Four cars will be put in operation this morning.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.
It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by R. W. Ellis & Co. Druggists, 27 S. Spring St., Los Angeles.

EXCHANGE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The indisposition to trade, even among room traders is something remarkable, and the stock market reached to-day the acme of dullness, for though there was quite a business during the forenoon, the afternoon trading was next to nothing. The result of to-day's trading is to leave almost the entire active list a fractional amount higher than last previous sales, the largest gain being only ⅝ per cent.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

Petroleum opened at 72⅝c. and closed at 72⅞c; highest, 73⅛c.; lowest, 72⅝c. Sales, 977,000 barrels.

MONEY QUOTATIONS.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Money on call easy; closed at 1@1½ per cent.

Prime mercantile paper 4@6½.

Sterling exchange dull and barely steady; $4.86¾ for sixty day bills; $4.88½ for demand.

Bar silver, 92¼c.

Noon—Market dull and steady at best prices of morning.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION AND CERTIFICATE of Copartnership.

Notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern that the retail clothing firm heretofore existing under the name of the London Clothing Company, L. Harris & Co., proprietors, doing business in the City of Los Angeles, California, composed of Leopold Harris and Benno Jastrowitz, each having an equal interest therein, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The said Benno Jastrowitz withdraws from said firm and Herman W. Frank succeeds to all his interest therein. The said Benno Jastrowitz and the said Leopold Harris continue as copartners in the wholesale clothing business hitherto and now carried on under the name of L. Harris & Co., and the said wholesale and retail business are from the date hereof to be carried on as separate and distinct businesses, and independent the one from the other.

The said new firm of the London Clothing Co. assumes all debts and pays all liabilities, and will collect all accounts, said old firm hereby dissolved having assigned said accounts to said new firm.

And the said Leopold Harris and Herman W. Frank, whose names are hereunto subscribed, do hereby certify that they constitute a partnership transacting a retail clothing business at the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California. Its principal place of business is Los Angeles, California. Its name is London Clothing Company, Harris & Frank, proprietors, and the full names of all the partners are as follows, to-wit: Leopold Harris, Herman W. Frank, and they and each of them reside in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California.

HOW MANY WAYS CAN THIS BE READ?

THE LOS ANGELES HERALD IS BY ALL ACKNOWLEDGED have been the prime factor in the discovery and making known of the resources of this section. To its sagacious outgivings more than to any other agency our marvelous development is attributed.

THE HERALD has from its inception watched with a single eye the budding industries of this portion of the State. For each good enterprise this journal has at all times had a word of cheerful encouragement. In spite o the skeptical, it has survived to see all of its earlier predictions fullfilled to the letter.

THE HERALD to-day takes the lead in all respects among the papers of Southern California. Its first care still is the material, intellectual and social interests of its section. It aims to be truthful rather than over-zealous in its publication of news; to be conservative rather than over-sensational, in its policy; to be clean and decent, respecting the sacred precincts of the home and fireside, rather than indecently salacious in its tone..

THE HERALD gets all the news from all quarters of the globe with promptness accuracy and dispatch. Its local staff is energetic and well-trained to miss nothing of real importance to its readers. It is always alive to all public enterprises.

THE HERALD still takes pride in aiding any legitimate material, intellectual or social movement which will benefit the people. No other journal in this section approaches it in those important respects.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Kaspar Cohn left yesterday for San Francisco.

Ex-Mayor E. F. Spence has gone to San Francisco.

W. J. Waddingham, of Ontario, is at the Hollenbeck.

Mr. Dan McFarland left for San Francisco yesterday morning.

Mrs. V. D. Merchant, of San Francisco, is visiting friends here.

Penn A. Briggs, a leading business man, of Santa Ana, is here.

Mr. H. Newmark will leave for the North on this morning's train.

H. W. Knowlton, prominent in Sacramento mercantile circles, is in the city.

Mr. L. Loeb will depart for a trip to the North on the 12:45 P. M. train to-day.

Hon. Reuben H. Lloyd, of San Francisco, is again at the New United States.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Freeman and Miss Freeman started last night for Chicago.

Mr. T. K. Stateler, the San Francisco agent of the Northern Pacific Railway, is in the city on a short visit.

Hon. B. L. Brundage, Superior Judge of Kern County, is in the city and a guest at the New United States.

R. J. Colver, our Dick, is on the Abilene, Kansas Gazette. The paper is bright, neat and a stalwart Democratic journal.

J. E. Ward, who has been visiting Ensenada, Baja California, has returned to Los Angeles, and is a guest at the New United States.

J. C. Wright and wife, of Green Meadows, left last evening on an extended trip to San Francisco, Sacramento and the Yosemite Valley.

Mr. M. F. Thompson, manager of the Stewart Hotel at San Bernardino, was in the city yesterday and left on the 12:45 P. M. train for San Francisco.

Dr. Henry L. Shively, of the Presbyterian Hospital, New York, with his sister, Miss Edith M. Shively, are at the Hotel Lincoln, visiting their parents.

Mr. J. P. Moran will leave for San Francisco to-day on a business trip which will probably entail his absence from this city for a week or ten days.

Mr. S. H. Friedlander, a prominent San Francisco merchant, accompanied by his wife, passed through the city yesterday en route to San Juan, where he will pass the summer.

Captain George Remington is in town from Catalina Island. Captain Remington reports the climate at the Island as beautiful and says there are a number of Angeleños rusticating there.

Mr. Charles Gassen, who has just returned from his sojourn in Europe, was presented last evening with a package of Condition Powders, by his friend, D. Hennessy. Mr. Gassen has lost thirty-five pounds. California beef and climate must be the best.

NEWS NOTES.

The closing meeting of the Canadian Society will take place this evening in Opera Hall.

The Philharmonic Society will meet to-night at Bancroft's Hall. A full attendance is requested.

The Republicans of Monrovia and Duarte will hold a ratification meeting to-morrow night at Azusa.

A habeas corpus case on behalf of a Chinese girl, 15 years old, will be heard in the Superior Court to-day.

There will be a promenade concert to-night at Banning's Hall, Wilmington, for the benefit of the Catholic Church at that place.

There will be a special drill of Company F at Armory Hall at 8 o'clock this evening in preparation for the parade on the Fourth.

A meeting of Committee on Arrangements and Finance Committee of the Horribles is called at Judge Austin's Court this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Transfers of real estate yesterday amounted to $113,558 and were 86 in number. Of these 30 were for more than $1,000 each, and 25 were for nominal considerations.

The Reliance Democratic Club will hold its next regular meeting this evening in Judge Hutton's court room, Temple block. All good Democrats are asked to be present.

A social dance will be given by Messrs. Cawley and Baker at the Hotel Metropole, Catalina Island, to-morrow evening. Fred Doh's orchestra has been engaged to remain at this place for the summer season.

The recent election at San Pedro and Rattlesnake Island resulted disastrously to the project to annex the island to the San Pedro township. There were 142 votes cast of which only 23 were for annexation.

The Young People's Union praise service for this quarter will be held in the First United Presbyterian Church, corner Eighth and Hill streets, at 7:30 this evening. The subject is "Salvation;" text, Rom. vi., 23.

Criminal Notes.

Early yesterday morning Koster's restaurant was broken into and the till relieved of about $34.

W. A. Frick reported yesterday morning to the Police that his buggy had been stolen from his yard at No. 36 Water street.

James Jones reported at the Police Station yesterday that he had been robbed of his watch some time during the previous night.

Mr. E. C. Burlingame found a man trying to induce a young girl to accompany him to a house of questionable character last night, and after frightening the fellow away, took the girl to her parents' home, on Vignes street.

A bargain in the Oxarart block, North Spring street. Ask Bayles & Co., 118 West First street.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Irish Aristocracy" at Turner Hall.

Last night the Barry and Fay combination closed their McKenna's Flirtation at Turner Hall. There will be a change of bill for the rest of the week to Irish Aristocracy, which will be given to-night and for the rest of the season.

"A Life for Love."

Mr. A. P. Burbank will give his final recital to-night at the First Congregational Church. The programme as announced promises to be the most attractive of the course, introducing Mr. Burbank's masterpiece, A Life for Love, a dramatic arrangement of Dickens' novel, "The Tale of Two Cities." It cost Mr. Burbank six months of labor to condense and adopt the incidents in the novel so that he can tell them interestingly in an hour and twenty minutes. The church should be better filled to-night than on any previous occasion.

Grace Church Social.

There was a large attendance last evening at Grace M. E. Church, on First street, where an ice-cream and church social was given. The following programme was thoroughly enjoyed: Instrumental solo, Mrs. Johnson; recitation, Mrs. Tompkins; duet, Misses Davis and Burgess; recitation, Tom Barnes; song, Mr. Voorhees; recitation, Miss Buckingham; comic song, Mr. Grannis; recitation, Mr. Tompkins; song, quartette; recitation, Major Arbuckle; song, Mr. Lyon.

A Monday Musicale.

On Monday evening next Miss Mamie Short and pupils will present a choice elocutionary programme at Turnverein Hall. There will be scenes from plays in costume, and also recitations and music by Mrs. Willigrod, Miss Lockhart, Miss Orr, Miss Messmore and Mr. Gottschalk. Miss Williams, the elocutionist, is billed to appear on the occasion.

A WOMAN'S WHIP

Causes Robert Carr to be Tried for Battery.

A charge of battery against Robert Carr was investigated in Justice King's Court yesterday. The complaint was sworn to by Mrs. E. Cross, and from the testimony in the case it appeared that Carr on Sunday last refused to give to Mrs. Cross, who is a widow, certain letters she had written to him before he married the lady who is at present his wife. Mrs. Cross went to Mr. Carr's house to demand the letters, and upon Mr. Carr's refusal to return the letters, she drew a whip and started to use it. Mr. Carr objected and forced her out of the house. Mrs. Cross then swore to the complaint, and the jury could not agree yesterday, being four for acquittal and one for conviction.

OUR CALAVERAS.

Several Big Trees Not Very Far Distant.

Southern California can boast of large trees as well as the northern part of the State. When at Fort Tejon the other day a HERALD man saw an oak tree which measured twenty-seven feet in circumference, and several ranging from twenty to twenty-five feet. On one of these giants appears the inscription, now almost effaced by age, "Here lies Peter Le Beck, killed by a bear, 1836." The old-time vaqueros say that Le Beck was one of the first American prospectors in this part of the country, and while in search of the precious metal his wanderings led him up the Tejon. He camped under the big tree referred to, and while sitting beneath it a bear descended from its branches and killed him.

Installation of Officers.

At Opera Hall last night, a large meeting of Number 14, Y. M. I., was held for the purpose of installing the recently elected officers.

The following officers were installed by District Deputy President L. D. Deane: J. P. Moran, President; J. B. Dockweiler, First Vice-President; Thos. Gray, Second Vice-President; P. Purcell, Recording Secretary; H. C. Limbrock, Financial Secretary; Bernard McCone, Corresponding Secretary; M. Bethuski, Marshall; A. Mesmer, F. W. Montgomery, John Hanlon, Jas Fogarty and Peter Merrian, Executive Committee. This organization is receiving new members at every meeting and is in a flourishing condition.

The Associated Charities.

The proceedings of the meeting of the Associated Charities yesterday afternoon, were of an informal nature, as a quorum was not present. Registrar Wright read a number of cases calling for assistance, which had come under his notice, but the matters were laid over until a later date. It was decided to canvass the city, especially the business houses, for $1 subscriptions, as the expenses are a great deal more than the revenue. It was also deemed advisable to have all further meetings held at 4 or 4:30 P. M., so as to give those interested a better opportunity to attend, many of the members of the committee being engaged in business, and consequently unable to be present in the early part of the afternoon.

Complaint Against Officers.

Complaints have been made to the Board of Supervisors by C. B. Richardson and J. C. Burns, against the action of some of the Deputy Constables in making, as complainants allege, unjust arrests. They also alleged that they were abused by the trusties at the County Jail while they were imprisoned there. Supervisors Martin and Venable were appointed as a committee to investigate the matter at yesterday's meeting of the Supervisors.

Pomona's Progress.

An arrival in town from Pomona yesterday said that business is brisk in that part of the country, though real estate speculations are showing a decided falling off. The fruit crop will be a very abundant one, and as the fruit is clean and free from disease, the horticulturists of that part of the country will reap a rich financial harvest.

To Wed.

The following received licenses to unite in marriage yesterday:

Albion H. Uhlm and Minnie M. Hager, of Santa Ana.

Joseph Inaid and Lizzie Kuntz, of Pomona.

S. C. Henton and Florence M. Toliver, of Los Angeles.

Undelivered Telegrams.

Undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph office, No. 6 Court street, at 10 P. M., June 28th: Mrs. Longley, Mrs. P. C. McCourtney, Mrs. F. R. Stowe, Miss Abbie E. Leaming, Jo Nebert, W. F. Fixen, L. C. Trent 2, Willie C. Kitzlernan, M. P. Sullivan, Sam Blumenberg.

German Democratic Club.

A German Democratic Club will be organized at Turner Hall at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. All German-Americans are invited to attend and take part in the proceedings. There are already 200 charter members, and the club bids fair to be the banner club of the county.

To be Sent East.

John Haswell, who has been acting queerly for some time past, will be sent to his former home at Columbus, Ohio, by his relatives. His imagination has taken a religious turn, and he has taken several trips in obedience to imaginary orders from the Supreme Being.

BURLINGTON ROUTE.

Overland Excursion.

Passengers joining these parties are in the hands of a responsible railway company, not an "excursion agency;" its employes are its representatives, and accustomed to serving the public.

Dates.—Trains leave Los Angeles on Thursdays and San Francisco on Fridays, meeting at Sacramento Friday afternoon. Dates are as follows: From Los Angeles—June 21st; July 5th, 19th; and day following from San Francisco, Sacramento, Tulare, Fresno, Merced, Lathrop, San Jose, Stockton, Davis, Marysville, Colfax and Reno.

First class these excursions undoubtedly are in every respect, as no objectionable people are received, and each party is in charge of Burlington agents through to Chicago.

Free sleeping cars, properly provided with curtains, mattresses, blankets, etc. No extra charge for this, or any other service.

Rates, $35.00 is the price of a ticket from Los Angeles, San Francisco and most California stations to any Missouri river point, and only slightly more to points further east.

Scenery by daylight is a great feature, as these excursions will stop twenty-four hours in Salt Lake, and go by daylight through the Black Cañon or the Gunnison, across the Continental Divide, through the famous Marshall Pass, thence down the valley of the Arkansaw through the Grand Cañon of the Royal Gorge.

Further particulars are contained in Burlington route excursion folder, to be had at any ticket offices of the Southern Pacific and other railways, and at Burlington route offices below.

California, the Land of Discoveries.

Why will you lie awake all night, coughing, when that most effective and agreeable California remedy, Santa Abe, will give you immediate relief? SANTA ABIE is the only guaranteed cure for Consumption, Asthma and all Bronchial Complaints. Sold only in large bottles at $1.00. Three for $2.50. C. H. Hance, 77 N. Spring street, will be pleased to supply you, and guarantee relief when used as directed. CALIFORNIA CAT-ALCURE never fails to relieve Catarrh or Cold in the Head. Six months treatment, $1.00. By mail $1.10.

There is so much freedom and independence in the life of a pioneer, that one need not be surprised that men—and women, too—are ready to brave the dangers and discomforts attendant on this mode of life. The one serious drawback is in the fact that in times of sickness and accident, to which all are exposed, it is impossible to secure the services of a regular physician. For all cases of febrile or bilious derangement there is nothing superior to Frese's Hamburg Tea.

Nadeau House.

CZENA.

Ozœna is the professional or technical name given to an advanced form of catarrh in which ulceration has eaten through the membrane lining of the nose to the cartillage of the bone. Any case of catarrh may end in ozœna, but it most frequently occurs in those who are naturally scrofulous. The discharge takes place through the nostrils or through the throat, and is generally of a yellowish or greenish-yellow color, frequently tinged with blood, and almost always attended by an offensive smell. In the language of Dr. Wood, of Philadelphia, "The disease is one of the most obdurate and disagreeable which the physician has to encounter. In bad cases the breath of the patient becomes so revolting as to isolate him from society, and render him an object of distrust even to himself."

In some instances pieces of bone become separated and slough off, leaving deep, unhealthy ulcers, which secrete a bloody matter, and are extremely difficult to heal.

After ozœna has continued some time the sense of smell becomes impaired and often lost.

Deafness is one of the most common consequences and results from its extension through the eustachian tube to the internal ear.

Pains in the head over the frontal sinuses, impairing memory, and even insanity, frequently springs from its extension to the brain.

The great danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present to some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh of ozœna, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people. Every disease of this kind can be cured by our new system of practice.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best reference from those already cured.
